This exhibition is a collection of work by students at Creighton University School of Medicine (Omaha and Phoenix campuses), Creighton University School of Dentistry, Creighton's School of Nursing and Creighton University College of Arts and Sciences. The bridge between art and medicine is central to the theme of the exhibition. We hope our future physicians and healthcare workers will always remember the humanity behind the medicine. Admission is free. Visitor parking is located west of the Lied Education Center for the Arts and is accessed from Cass Street. *All Department of Fine and Performing Arts events are funded, in part, by the generous support of the Richard and Mary McCormick Endowment Fund for the Fine and Performing Arts, the Grace Keenan Fund, the Anne Scheerer Fund, and other anonymous sources.
