CALL FOR 2012-2013 INSTITUTIONAL DATA ON SERVICE-LEARNING

The Office of Academic Excellence and Assessment is accepting and gathering 2012-2013 service-learning institutional data to submit for the 2014 President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll program, managed by the Corporation for National and Community Service. The Honor Roll will recognize higher education institutions in four categories: general community service, interfaith community service, economic opportunity and education.

Definitions that the Corporation for National and Community Service use for community service and academic service-learning are:

- Community service means activities designed to improve the quality of life of off-campus community residents, particularly low-income individuals. Community service activities may include but are not limited to: academic service learning, cocurricular service-learning (not part of an academic course but utilizing service-learning elements) and other cocurricular student volunteer activities, as well as work-study community service and paid community service internships. Community service includes both direct service to citizens (i.e., serving food to the needs) and indirect service (i.e., assessing community nutrition needs or managing a food bank).
- Academic service-learning means service that is integrated with academic course content. It may involve direct or indirect service and may include academic research.

Watch for additional communications about the 2014 President's Honor Roll in upcoming weeks. If you are in a position that gathered 2012-2013 institutional data on service-learning and community service, please contact Mary Ann Danielson or Michele King to ensure the data is reported in the Honor Roll report.

CORPORATION FOR NATIONAL & COMMUNITY SERVICE UPDATES

PRESIDENT'S HONOR ROLL

Creighton University has participated in the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll since it launched in 2006. The Honor Roll annually highlights the role colleges and universities play in solving community problems and placing more students on a lifelong path of civic engagement by recognizing institutions that achieve meaningful, measurable outcomes in the communities they serve.

Last year, our joined efforts in collecting the service-learning data was instrumental to the communication of the success of more than 4,000 Creighton students engaged in more than 389,000 hours of community service in 2011-2012. Creighton University has been named in the President's Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll since 2006.

PROGRAM/COURSE SPOTLIGHTS

Continuing our series highlighting the programs/courses in which our students have participated in service, we feature the Student Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Clinic and the English/SRP 438: Literacy and Community course.

The VITA Clinic celebrates its fifth year in coordinating free tax return preparation for low-income taxpayers and those taxpayers vulnerable to exorbitant refund anticipation loans. Students from Creighton University's chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, the accounting honor society, and Business Law Society in the School of Law staff one-day clinics in the Harper Center in February and March. Volunteers completed supervised training and successfully passed several qualification exams administered by the IRS. In addition, IRS personnel will be on site.

One-day clinics will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 22, and Sunday, March 2. For questions contact: Thomas J. Purcell III, JD, Ph.D., CPA or Kiley Eccker.
