The toddlers are exhausted after a week of Zoo activities, so it's time to head home for a good nights sleep. Goodnight Moon is the perfect book to set the mood for some much needed rest. We will enjoy some relaxing art and sensory activities. If the weather cooperates and the snow melts on our playground we will get to go outside for some fresh air and enjoy the climber and tricycles.

Books we will read:
Goodnight Moon
Hey Diddle Diddle
I See The Moon
Papa Get The Moon For Me
The Napping House

Songs and Finger Plays
Twinkle Twinkle Little Star
Hey Diddle Diddle
Teddy Bear Teddy Bear
Ten In A Bed

Memo to Parents

With Daylight Savings time starting this past weekend, everyone is adjusting to the time change. We hope the theme we have picked for this week will help your child make the adjustment a little easier. Remember it's hard to go to bed when it is still light outside but we hope some fun bedtime stories and activities will help a little.

Thanks,
Du Rell, Laura, Corey, and Erin
