Whether you are a student of Science, Business, Politics, History, Art, or any other field, Creighton University’s German Major, Minor and Language Programs can offer you skills that can enhance your opportunities for work, travel, business and education.

Why Study German?

- German is the most commonly spoken language in Europe
- It is the official language of Germany, Austria, Belgium, Liechtenstein, Switzerland, and Luxembourg
- German is the second-most commonly used scientific language
- German-American trade relations are vastly developed and offer a broad range of job opportunities for graduates
- Students can do a semester of study abroad and experience German life
- German speaking countries offer great tourist attractions

For more information on German Programs, please visit:

http://www2.creighton.edu/ccas/modernlanguages/index.php

Current Course Offerings Include:

German 101: Beginning German I
German 102: Beginning German II
German 202: Intermediate German II
German 302: German Literature and Civilization II
German 321: German for Business and Economics

Questions ???

Contacts: Dr. Lucille Roy-Hewitson, Chair or Christine Dahlin
Email: LucilleHewitson@creighton.edu or ccdahlin@creighton.edu
Phone: 280-2508
Website: http://www2.creighton.edu/ccas/modernlanguages/index.php