Student Exhibits Now Open at Lied Center

Ann Griner
Entertainment Editor

Two Bachelor of Fine Arts thesis exhibits are now showing in the main gallery of the Lied Education Center for the Arts.

Ryan Doyle’s collection of silkscreen collages is called “Copycat.” Melissa Infield’s exhibit “Naked Truth” is a series of oil paintings. The shows will run through April 26.

In addition, the Annual Juried Student Art Exhibition will open April 26 in the lower level of St. John’s. It is sponsored by the Student Art League.

The gallery is open from noon to 4 p.m. every day. There is no admission charge.