Le Point Vierge:
Mary and the Catholic Imagination

January 20 - February 17, 2012
Opening Reception
Friday, January 20,  5:00 – 7:00 pm

This exhibition directs its focus on the varied images of the Virgin Mary within the context of the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, California. Because of its diverse population, this Archdiocese developed into a wonderful microcosm of global Catholicism. The images within churches, sacred spaces and outside alters - photographed over a seven-year pilgrimage by Dr. Wright and Ms. Tuma - richly illustrate the Catholic Marian experience with both tenderness and vigor.

Wendy M. Wright, Ph.D., is professor of Theology and holds the John C. Kenefick Faculty Chair in the Humanities at Creighton University. Omaha artist Dorothy Tuma specializes in photographs that emphasize the spiritual and natural qualities of images.

Public Lecture by Wendy M. Wright, Ph.D.
“Mary and the Catholic Imagination”
Thursday, January 26, 2012, 5:30 p.m.
Lied Education Center for the Arts, Room 104

Information:
402.280.2261 | liedartgallery@creighton.edu | fb:creightonuniversityliedartgallery | www.creighton.edu/liedgallery

This event is funded, in part, by the generous support of the Richard and Mary McCormick Fund for the Fine & Performing Arts, the Grace Keenan Fund and an anonymous source.

2500 California Plaza
Omaha, NE 68178-0303
402.280.2261
www.creighton.edu/liedgallery