   iii. Congressional Activities – Fr. Schlegal talked about his lobbying efforts to try and aide Higher Education bills that would have been hurtful to Creighton. The use of endowment to lower tuition cost. Textbook list must now be published so there can be more competition for college textbooks. Attempt to pass bill that would allow the Department of Education to dictate what credits would be universally accepted.

   i. Payroll and Taxes – attempting to get the payroll back in the University to make it cheaper and then attempt to make Creighton our payroll service. If we do payroll internally it would be a nightmare. Companies are starting to crack down on the W-9 form. We do not give ours out since we do not collect money. We only pay taxes on sales for the concerts; none of our other activities require it.
   ii. Governing Documents – Don Jensen was working on some new policy on how we keep records. There is a brief outline on what you need to do for record keeping.

Collegiate leadership forum will be in March. The strength quest push has been trying to make sure that everyone has access and especially for the leaders on campus. III. Old Business
   a. GSO Funding:
      1. Attempt to model the university funding to then know how to break down the graduate school funding.
2. Students know which students are in which program, but it is an issue trying to prevent double dipping and how the system works. It is highly convoluted with overlapping representation.

3. Students in different programs draw differently and how to make sure that those who are taken care of. This has allowed much of the school to actually get this worked out.

4. The GSO is voting to change and make sure that the GSO constitution works with the CSU constitution.

5. We are not sure if we even get part time student fees for CSU. The involvement for part time students is a lot wider than anticipated. The fee for part time students needs to be figured out as soon as possible.

b. GSO Constitution:
   1. There is no reason for why it will be the GSO once it goes live. The student activities office has recognized it. All that is tentative will be voted on April 6th to address the needs and changes to make the organization live.
   2. Funding request have not been fully established and it will be moved to Funding committee and will be established as soon a possible. Since the graduate students are so disparate trying to tie everyone together is problematic. Trying to grow and change the funding from the university is a big issue. Massive growth in student groups very quickly and more continuity.
   3. We are trying to grow the community through funding student organizations. The issue with how the undergraduate governments are funded. It is an issue of autonomy. It makes no sense to do the rebate funding for undergraduates because of the club funding.
