ABOUT US:

- Creighton’s 1st master’s degree was awarded in 1893; the 1st Ph.D. was conferred in 1971
- Creighton graduate education develops critical judgment, independent thinking, scholarly initiative and disciplined inquiry
- The Graduate School is a leader in interdisciplinary education and offers both on-campus and online programs
- More than 50% of Creighton graduate students are enrolled in online programs
- In 2016, U.S. News & World Report ranked Creighton No. 13 in Best Online Graduate Business Programs (Excluding MBA), No. 36 in Best Online Graduate Education Programs, No. 44 in Best Online MBA Programs and No. 64 in Best Online Graduate Nursing Programs

The Graduate School is continually adding to its academic offerings with distinctive and innovative programs

- There are more than 35 master’s degree programs
- Master’s degrees are offered in business, leadership, conflict resolution, education, school counseling, humanities, health care, public health, ministry, theology and science
- Newer programs include finance (MFIN), leadership, health and wellness coaching and expanded MBA offerings online and on campus

Including doctoral degrees

- The Doctoral Program in Interdisciplinary Leadership (Ed.D.) is our largest online program, this year drawing students from 45 states and 10 countries
- Other doctoral programs include biomedical sciences, medical microbiology and immunology, pharmacology and the newest offerings, Doctor of Business Administration (DBA) and Ph.D. in Clinical and Translational Sciences

And nearly a dozen graduate certificate programs

- Graduate certificates are in business analytics, Catholic school leadership, clinical and translational science, health care ethics, lifestyle medicine, medical anthropology, international relations, negotiation and conflict resolution, project management, spiritual direction/directed retreats, leadership and more

Dual-degree programs provide additional expertise and professional career opportunities

- Creighton offers dual degrees in business, law, medicine, international relations, negotiation/conflict resolution, business intelligence and analytics, health care ethics, leadership and more
- For example, a student could earn an MBA in conjunction with a J.D., M.D., Pharm.D. or master’s degrees in international relations or investment management and financial analysis

Our more than 5,300 alumni live out Creighton’s mission of excellence

Just a few Graduate School alumni who have made a difference include:

- Lu Amy Sun, M.D., PhD’90, physician and molecular pharmacologist, medical director of experimental medicine at Procter & Gamble, chair of the American Society of Clinical Pharmacology and Therapeutics (ASCP) geriatric section
- Rev. Steven A. Boes, MS’94, national executive director of Boys Town, former director of St. Augustine Indian Mission in Winnebago, Neb.
- Jeff Thompson, MS’10, detective with NYPD, crisis and hostage negotiation