

Mission and Ministry

Office of Mission & Ministry

The division office is head by Vice-Provost, Dr. Eileen Burke-Sullivan and oversees five departments as well as the Master's of Arts in Ministry (MAM) graduate and the Certificate in Christian Spirituality (CSP) certificate programs.

Campus Ministry

Through retreats, prayer, service, liturgies, inter-faith opportunities, small faith sharing groups and more, Campus Ministry exists to assist students in their spirituality and faith growth through both personal and group formation. Campus Ministry also strives to invite students of all faith traditions to experience the various programs and services that are offered.

Collaborative Ministry

The Collaborative Ministry Office exists to provide spiritual formation opportunities that strengthen personal and communal growth. Fr. Andy Alexander, SJ, provides orientation and education to the Creighton faculty and staff about the centrality of the Christian, Jesuit mission of the University that includes Ignatian spirituality. Additionally, Collaborative Ministry's Online Ministry serves the faith life of people on campus and around the world.

CURC

The Creighton University Retreat Center is a full-service center built on the Jesuit tradition of spiritual direction based on the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. The center is located 45 miles from Creighton near Griswold, Iowa and is set in 153 wooded acres. It provides an assortment of private, double and group accommodations for more than 100 people.

Degelman Center for Spirituality

The center's mission has been the promotion of spirituality focused on the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius among students and other members of the campus community. The Director continues to provide spiritual direction, retreats, workshops on spirituality and similar services to students, faculty and staff.

The Schlegel Center for Service and Justice (SCSJ)

The SCSJ strives to waken the hearts and lives of solidarity to build a more just world. The SCSJ engages students in community service, reflection and action on behalf of justice and sustainability as an integral part of their Jesuit, Catholic university education. Several hundred students participate annually on the Spring and Fall Break Service trips.
