PURPOSE: To clarify that food and beverages will not be allowed in the Harper Center for Student Life and Learning’s Hixson-Lied Auditorium

SOURCE: Harper Center for Student Life and Learning Administration

POLICY: The Harper Center for Student Life and Learning is considered a combination of educational, conference and business spaces. Accordingly the Hixson-Lied Auditorium is classified as a classroom/lecture hall venue and thus food and beverages are not permitted. This follows the guidelines as constructed by the Academic Affairs Division regarding no food or beverages in classrooms.

Additionally, it is the intent to keep the auditorium as pristine as possible, and this goal is not compatible with food and beverages.

If available, meeting rooms 2066 and/or 2060, located immediately outside the upper level of the auditorium, can be used to host the food/beverage portion of an event, with the main program in the auditorium.
