

SOLIDARITY LECTURE SERIES: "When The Gospel Grows Feet: Rutilio Grande and the Church of El Salvador"

February 15, 2012
5:30- 6:30 p.m.
Harper 3029
Creighton University

Professor Thomas M. Kelly

Professor Tom Kelly, an Associate Professor in the Theology department will be speaking about his current research on Rutilio Grande S.J. as part of the Solidarity Lecture Series. Rutilio Grande, S.J. was the first Jesuit and priest to die in ministry to the poor of El Salvador. His commitment to a church in service to the world, exemplified by Vatican II and the Bishops Conferences of Medellin, put him on a collision course with those in El Salvador determined to exploit the poor. Rutilio Grande, S.J. always remained faithful to the Church, his Bishop and the communities he served. His ministry style of servant leadership for the liberation of others characterized his approach and commitment to the Gospel.

Office of Multicultural Affairs

This series hosted by the Office of Multicultural Affairs is an opportunity for the Creighton community to hear from faculty who will share research and work in areas of diversity and multiculturalism. For more information or if you are a CU faculty member interested in being part of the lecture series, please contact Luz Colon-Rodriguez at lrodriguez@creighton.edu or check out the Office of Multicultural Affairs website: <http://oma.creighton.edu>.