Men's Fraternity Recruitment

January 18th through the 31st
Vice President of Recruitment

Dear Students,

My name is Zack Sutton and it has been my pleasure to serve as the 2008-2009 Interfraternity Council Vice President of Recruitment. As you come to the completion of your fall semester, you may be looking for something that will involve you in another aspect of Creighton’s diverse community. While considering your many options, I would encourage you to explore the unparalleled opportunities offered through fraternal life.

Starting December 1, 2008, registration will open for spring 2009 recruitment. Creighton’s five fraternities will open their organization to the exciting freshman class. This process, known as Men’s Greek Recruitment is sponsored by the Interfraternity Council, the governing body for all fraternities. You are under NO OBLIGATION to join a fraternity at any time throughout the week. This recruitment process is meant to inform you of the opportunities offered by fraternity life here at Creighton. The two weeks of recruitment will be full of free events and food offered by each fraternity.

There is absolutely nothing to lose! Grab a friend and show up for free food, fun, and the chance to meet a lot of great new people. If you have any questions please feel free to contact me at Zacksutton@Creighton.edu.

Zack Sutton
Vice President of Recruitment
Interfraternity Council

Assistant Director for Greek Life

Let me be the first to thank you for your interest in fraternities at Creighton University. Since 1921, Greek chapters have played an active role on campus, and continue to provide a wealth of personal development opportunities for students. Our Greek community is incredibly dynamic, and as you proceed with your exploration of fraternities, I am certain that you will find a dedicated, lively, and diverse group of men.

There are five social fraternities at Creighton: Pi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Delta Theta, and Phi Kappa Psi. They are all unique and offer a variety of scholarship, leadership, service, and friendship opportunities. Throughout the recruitment process, you will have an opportunity to visit with brothers from each organization, ask questions, and listen to what they have to say about their own experiences within their fraternity. From there, let us help you determine which chapter will best allow you to burgeon as a chapter member and individual.

Greek organizations, much like Jesuit institutions, emphasize care of the individual, creating strong bonds of friendship, serving the less fortunate, and developing future citizen leaders. In these regards, fraternities can serve as a wonderful compliment to your learning at Creighton. Again, thank you for your interest. I encourage you to engage in the recruitment process, which could be the start of a journey in brotherhood that will last a lifetime.

If you have any questions or concerns about the recruitment process or fraternity life in general, please contact me at any time.

My very best,
Eric Immel
Assistant Director for Student Activities-Greek Life

Recruitment Policies

- To be eligible for recruitment, a candidate must register before January 21, 2009 at 4:30 pm and have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 and must be a non-first-semester, full-time student.
- On the day of bid extension, candidates must stay in their room from 8:00 pm till 12:00 am to allow fraternities to extend bids.
- During the final day of recruitment, no member of a fraternity may approach a candidate inquiring about fraternity matters. However, a candidate is allowed to approach any member and ask questions.
- No man may pledge, depledge, and then pledge another fraternity in the same academic semester.
- No fraternity member may discuss any other fraternity negatively.
- No bribery may occur during recruitment in any form.

Hazing Policy

All forms of hazing shall be banned. Hazing is defined as any action taken or situation created, intentionally, whether on or off fraternity premises, to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, harassment, or ridicule. Such activities and situations include the creation of excessive fatigue; physical and psychological shocks; wearing apparel which is conspicuous or not normally in good taste; engaging in public stunts and joke; morally degrading or humiliating games and activities; late night sessions which interfere with scholastic activities, and any other activities which are not consistent with the regulations and polices of Creighton University.

Alcohol Policy

Creighton University's Interfraternity Council is unconditionally opposed to the use of alcohol in the recruitment process or any new member programming. This means candidates may not go to bars, attend mixers, date parties of sororities, or other student organization functions serving alcohol during recruitment.

The entire recruitment process will be dry

Any violations of these policies are to be reported to Eric Immel, Assistant Director for Greek Life, and or the Student Activities office at (402) 280-1715.

Motto: The Great Joy of Serving Others

Philanthropy: Boys and Girls Club

Interesting Fact: President Woodrow Wilson as well as Mark Spitz (Olympic swimmer), Michael Bloomberg (New York City Major), and Creighton’s very own Father Schlegel were all Phi Psi’s

Words From the President

I first joined Phi Kappa Psi because of how impressed I was with the quality of men in this group. My freshman year was the year Hurricane Katrina hit New Orleans and we had some Phi Psi’s from Loyola Orleans displaced to my floor in Swanson Hall. These guys had a really close bond with one another and they blended so well into the Creighton community because the Phi Psi chapter at Creighton welcomed them in with open arms. It was like the two groups of Phi Psi’s had known each other for years! I wanted to be part of a group that would help me feel a part of the Creighton community, and Phi Kappa Psi has done that beyond my expectations. I thought Phi Psi would be just an extra-curricular activity that would help me have fun and de-stress from school, etc. but it has helped me develop into who I am and motivated me to aspire more. Whatever major or career path you choose, the situations and leadership opportunities you experience in Phi Psi will set you ahead in life. The unique thing about this brotherhood is that you get to grow and develop alongside other passionate men whom you respect and appreciate, and this relational experience covers a full spectrum of emotions that you would not be able to get with any other group. Because of this, you form a bond that is unquantifiable and you know that no matter where life takes you, your Phi Kappa Psi experience has significantly enhanced your mind, heart, and soul.

-Andrew Hanson-President

Academics

Phi Kappa Psi has been an academic benefit. During the pledging process, study tables ensured that I regularly completed my homework. As an active now, personal connections through the brotherhood have been tremendously helpful. For example, I have studied with a number of brothers for exams. When I needed assistance with my classes, there was always an upperclassman able to help. Again Phi Kappa Psi has aided in my academic achievement. I am proud to be a member of this fraternity and would strongly encourage to anyone to consider us.

- Mike Davidson-Member

Brotherhood

As difficult as it is to define “brotherhood” with one word, the few individuals lucky enough to experience it would describe it as a feeling. The Brotherhood of Phi Kappa Psi is more than just hanging out on the weekends, attending date parties, and meeting new people. It is the sense of belonging to something bigger than oneself. It is the understanding that although we unite by similar interests, we too have the ability to share in each other’s differences. It is the support system that strengthens character and deepens integrity when adversity is standing in one’s path. It is the commitment to one another to develop into loyal comrades not only throughout one’s collegiate experience but over a lifetime. Brotherhood is Phi Kappa Psi.

Words from an Executive

College is one of, if not the most, exciting experiences that a person goes through in his or her life. Throughout the four years we spend in college, we make a multitude of decisions regarding what classes to take, what clubs to join, and what relationships to form. As I find myself nearly two and a half years into my college experience, I realize that some of the decisions I have made have been good and some not so good. However, one choice I’ve made that I will never regret was my decision to join the brotherhood of Phi Kappa Psi. When I got to Creighton, I struggled to find my place in college life. It wasn’t until I met the brothers of Phi Kappa Psi that I truly began to feel at home. The values of Phi Psi are shown through each member of the chapter. When you go through recruitment, you hear words like brotherhood, trust, and respect. It isn’t until after becoming a brother that you learn the true meaning of these words. Since joining Phi Psi, I’ve gone through experiences and formed friendships that will forever impact my life. The lessons that fraternity life has taught me cannot be found through any other organization, and the bonds I have formed with my brothers will never fade. I will forever be thankful for the positive impact that Phi Kappa Psi has had on me and I can only hope that it will continue to have the same impact on its future brothers.

- Kevin Weiler-Grievance Board Chair

Alumni

In the past year, over $16,000 of improvements have been made to the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house at Creighton University. Although the active members have taken great care of the house during their time here, the three Alumni members of the alumni corporation board deserve all the credit. Nick Schuster…, Mike Schurmann…, and Jacob Folks… have all taken substantial time out of their schedule to meet at the fraternity house once every two weeks to discuss not only housing concerns, but also offer advice and counsel for all fraternity activities. They have managed billings, completed the recent re-financing, organized alumni fundraisers and events, and supported the active chapter through thick and thin.

Social Events

Our brotherhood holds several social events every semester. These events range from date parties, holiday parties, and formals to brotherhood events and trips. For date parties we choose various themes to liven up the events and allow for the creativity of our brothers to shine through. Members of our brotherhood, in smaller groups, get together and plan various trips including a trip to Mexico for a leadership convention as well as a senior trip to the Rockies. Our fraternity is always finding fun and interesting ways in which to spend our free time, and rest assured there is never a dull moment when you are a member of the PHI KAPPA PSI Fraternity.

Interesting Fact: John Goodman (actor), Dave Thomas (Wendy’s founder), and Orel Hershiser (MLB pitcher) were all notable Sig Eps

Words From the VP of Recruitment

Being a Sig Ep at Creighton has been one of my best memories of college thus far. My best friends are the ones that are in this fraternity. In fact, that is the reason why I became a Sig Ep in the first place; because of the people in it. We are all close friends. Another thing I enjoy about the fraternity is the service that we do around the community; we primarily help the Ronald McDonald House. We have some fun events that we do throughout the year. The big event that we do is called the Run with a Heart and it is the largest philanthropy on campus. We hold it in the spring and everyone has a great time. We have a house off-campus and we currently have fifteen guys living in it. The fraternity just renovated the deck which was a fun project for all of us guys. A final thing that I enjoy about Sig Ep is the fact that we do not have a pledge system. Our program is called the Balanced Man and it focuses on building balanced leaders for life. The aspect of Balanced Man that I particularly like is that it helps promote positive qualities in our lives, such as brotherhood, self-discipline, and diligence.

-Matt Dorweiler-VP of Recruitment

Alumni Experience

It has been a great experiencing reconnecting with this chapter as it has given me some great memories when I was an undergraduate at Creighton. The alumni board is gaining new members and we are working with the chapter to make some renovations to the house. The majority of the renovations are completed as a chapter which allows for the members to gain group unity as well as building appreciation for their work. My experience with Sig Ep as an undergraduate has warranted my return to help the fraternity as an alumnus.

-Craig Martin-Alumni President

Membership

The various service events, date parties, formal, and chapter meetings are a few of the things that members are involved in as a lot of our members are also involved in extracurricular activities. Intramural sports comprise a large part of the extracurricular activities, so finding a team to play on is not difficult. Brothers are always at the house just hanging out, so finding someone to talk to is quite easy. We have just recently begun volunteering at the Qwest Center to fundraise and have worked some very interesting events, such as the Mary J. Blige concert. All of these events help us grow closer as a chapter.

-Eric Gunn-President
I was unsure of whether or not I was going to join a fraternity when I made the decision to come to Creighton. After hearing all of the stereotypes that surround Greek life, I was unsure if being in a fraternity was what I wanted to do. After meeting some people here at Creighton my freshman year, they convinced me to, at the very least, go through recruitment. I decided to do it to meet some new people, but I was pretty set on not joining a fraternity. Going through recruitment was an experience in itself; I had a great time learning more about what Greek Life was and what it was not. I learned that being a Greek is a great way to expand your horizons and fully develop a well-rounded person. That is what Sig Ep helped me realize; they showed me that being a member would give me the ability to be a leader, perform service, and become incredibly close with the other brothers all while enjoying my college experience. Being a member of this great fraternity has been an unforgettable experience.

-Connor Morrison-VP of Communication

My favorite part about being a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon is definitely the other members. I think that most of the brothers would agree with what I am saying. My best friends belong to this fraternity and they are the reason for my amazing experience with Sig Ep. All of the brothers are very close; we are almost always hanging out with each other beyond fraternity events. The brothers of Sig Ep are laid back and are always willing to meet new people to join the great group of guys that comprise Sigma Phi Epsilon.

-Tom Whetstone-Junior member

As the VP of Membership Development, I will introduce all of the new members to the other brothers. My job consists of teaching the new members all there is to know about the fraternity; especially the virtues of Sigma Phi Epsilon which are the cornerstone of the fraternity. Once a student going through recruitments accepts his bid to becoming a member of Sig Ep, he is automatically a full member of the fraternity. He has every privilege that a senior member has. This is what separates us from other fraternities. Finally, the best part of being a new member is growing closer with your class. Each week I will proctor activities that encourage trust, friendship, and brotherhood among your class.

Pi Kappa Alpha
Brothers posing after Greek Awards

Words From the President
Everyone knows that college is supposed to be a time when you have the greatest experiences of your life. But there is no way to have those great experiences without someone to share them with. I swore when I came to college I would never find friends as good as the ones I had in high school, and for my first semester, I was sure that I was right. Then this experience of Pi Kappa Alpha came around, and everything changed. Maybe I was right that I would never find friends like the ones I had from home, because instead I found an entirely new group of brothers. You hear all the stories of great times, great parties, and this fraternity stands for all those things. But above everything else, this fraternity stands for great people, great friends, and great brothers. You will hear the word brotherhood tossed around a lot during this process, but we Pikes don’t throw it around lightly, and it takes on a serious meaning here.

-Chris Degrande-President

Alumni
With Pi Kappa Alpha the alumni are essential components of fraternity life—offering financial support, experience and expertise, essential to proper management of the chapter, and especially networking capacities that link generations of Pikes across the country. Here at Creighton our chapter asks our alumni to serve on our Alumni Advisory Board, as Chapter Advisor, as Financial Advisor, and also as House Advisor. All of these positions collaborate, working with the active members of the chapter to again provide them with anything from better ways to manage fraternity assets; link them to job opportunities; offer the actives financial support; and mentor active fraternity leaders. As you go through the recruitment process, I encourage you to take a close look at the alumni element of the chapters you see. Seek out what ways alumni relations are conducted, meet the chapter advisors, and ask how alumni are involved. Alumni are an essential and necessary component to any successful fraternity. -James Hillis-Chapter Advisor ’07

Brotherhood
When someone joins Pi Kappa Alpha, he is not just forming new friendships with people to socialize on the weekend. Instead, he joins a brotherhood; a collection of men whose bond goes much deeper than just friendship. It is a lifelong bond that is not divided by petty disagreements, racial or cultural divides, or selfishness. Brotherhood is a sense of confidence and trust, knowing you have 70 men there for you at all times, good or bad. It is something one cannot know until he experiences the brotherhood of PIKE.

-Chris Di Lorenzo-Brotherhood Chair
My membership in Pi Kappa Alpha has most definitely been the backbone of my Creighton University experience. But let's not talk about me. Let's talk about you. For the most part, I have found that those going through the recruitment process fall in to two categories: Some are mildly interested in joining, but are a little skeptical about the stigmas and labels that may accompany being in a fraternity. Others are quite the opposite. They would not be offended, but rather proud if one were to label them as "a frat guy," and are thus looking for something comparable to some of their friends' experiences with fraternities at larger schools. The beauty of Pi Kappa Alpha is that it caters to both those kinds of people. You can almost certainly find what you're looking for here, because we do do a lot, and best of all, we do it well. If you are eager to become a better scholar, leader, athlete, and gentleman, this is something that you should very strongly consider. I know that for me, it has made all the difference. Best of luck with your own decisions, and I hope to see you when recruitment begins.

PJ Thompson-Junior Executive

Words from an Executive

Joining Pike was the best decision of my life, hands down. At first I was a little hesitant about joining a fraternity, but then I realized that it was an experience of a lifetime. If I had not joined, I would not be the person I am today with the many leadership positions and the ability to truly make a difference on this campus. As a Pike, you learn that life is balance. We give back to the community and are socially active, while maintaining outstanding grades and becoming leaders. It might seem cliché, but you really do develop a sense a family with your fraternity brothers that lead to a relationship that will last for the rest of your life. Joining Pike, truly helped me grow into a person that could make a difference. All my experiences are ones that I carry with me and will even after college.

-Andy Baumgartner-Junior Member

Experience

Being a member of Pi Kappa Alpha is about living up to a standard of excellence. Every year during formal recruitment, Pike looks for men who exemplify the standards of our acronym SLAG, which stands for Scholar, Leader, Athlete, Gentlemen. As members, we strive everyday to uphold these ideals by excelling in the classroom, on the intramural field, and on Creighton's social scene. Pike's play an integral role in every aspect of Creighton's campus community, from student government and varsity athletics, to volunteer groups and the Dean's Honor Roll. If you're looking for a Greek experience that will challenge you to learn and grow into a truly well-rounded man, then Pike is the place for you.

Being a Member in this Chapter
Being a member of a fraternity is being part of something much bigger and older than oneself that is full of tradition. It is walking down the street in a place you've never been and being stopped by someone you've never meet and talking like you've been friends for years. Being a member of a fraternity is a choice, will you join and open yourself up to all of the possibilities laid out for you or will you sit back and watch as someone else will. It is not paying for friends, paying for a name, it is being with and around guys you like and respect knowing that the dues you pay are funding all of the events and activities and gifts you receive that semester.

- Kevin Ensminger-Active Member

New Member Experience
This is going to be your best semester yet. You can look forward to fun, but there is much to learn. Pledge semester is meant to test your commitment and loyalty to Sigma Alpha Epsilon. It is a time to prove that you are a true gentleman and belong amongst the elite. Join us for an unforgettable journey which you will remember for the rest of your life and gain pride in yourself and in your fraternity.

-Barrett Campbell-Pledge Educator

Words From the President
A Fraternity can offer its members many benefits, friendship, brotherhood, a social atmosphere, and most importantly an experience. As a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon we offer an experience that no other chapter on campus can match. The experience we offer is a group of men that are True to their words, that believe in the values of their organization, and above all a group of True Gentlemen. SAE helps good men become True Gentlemen.

Allan Williams-President
Being a new member is a very exciting experience. As I expected, there would be a lot of hard work that would need to be completed, but what I didn’t realize was how many leadership opportunities there would be. I was surprised to discover how much actually goes into running a fraternity successfully and I am proud to say now that I am glad I am a part of this family. I look forward to the semesters ahead and the adventures and surprises that will accompany them.

-David Malloy-New Member

Brotherhood

Brotherhood to me is a special kind of friendship. It is based on ritual, something not found in any other club or organization on campus. This is not the Animal House "Thank you may I have another sir!" hazing kind of ritual. It is an old, time honored ritual, passed down through the generations of members of all fraternities. The ritual is what creates this special kind of friendship, binding a group of men together more strongly than any other force; this thing that members of fraternities call brotherhood.

-Joel Gieswein-Eminent Deputy Archon

Alumni Experience

Membership into Sigma Alpha Epsilon is forever. The bonds that we share as brothers have lasted 153 years. There have been almost 300,000 initiated members and currently there are 150,000 living alumni around the world. As an alumnus you will have the opportunity to be as involved as you would like. There are many opportunities to be advisors, volunteer at the Leadership School, serve on the local alumni organization or be on the Province Council or even the Supreme Council.

Fall Break Trip - Nazareth Farm in Salem, West Virginia

Words From the President

My experiences in Phi Delta Theta have allowed me to make the most out of my college experience. While I have grown intellectually at Creighton through hours of classes and tests, Phi Delta Theta has challenged me to develop my character through friendship, sound learning, and moral rectitude. However, Phi Delt has not molded me into the person that it wants me to be. Instead, Phi Delta Theta has challenged me to fully become the man that I want to be. United by the oath we take to one another, the brothers of Phi Delta Theta represent a diverse spectrum of personalities and opinions that challenges and strengthens the character of each member. For me, Phi Delta Theta has challenged me to step out of my comfort zone and try new things. It is through the encouragement of fellow brothers that I have led a Spring Break Service trip, ran for President of the Fraternity, and become more involved on campus. Phi Delta Theta has dared me to not settle for the status quo, and my collegiate career would not have been as successful without it.

-Ben Beller - President

Academics

Academics and achievement are extremely important to the Brothers of Phi Delta Theta. First, we have the highest GPA of all the Greeks - including sororities - on campus. We take academics very seriously. Also, we provide tutoring for Brothers who need extra help. Coupled with our academic success is our record of achievement in on and off-campus organizations. The Brothers of Phi Delta Theta are the leaders on campus. Brothers are actively involved in CSU, Summer Preview, CCSJ, Intramurals, FLP, Honors Program, Internships, and so much more. In most organizations, you'll find a Phi Delt running it. So what does this mean for new members? Phi Delta Theta will give you a wealth of opportunities for success, whether in academics or involvement. Brothers truly live out the fraternity's cardinal principles of Friendship, Sound Learning, and Moral Rectitude. By joining our Brotherhood, you'll be in good company. We're a passionate group of scholars, leaders, and men for and with others.

-Joe Cudzilo - Secretary

Social Events

Ideally, you want to find that perfect balance between your academic life and your social life, but more often than not, it seems that all this school work can seriously get in the way of your much needed "personal" time. That's why the brothers of Phi Delta Theta make a genuine effort to integrate some serious fun into our busy schedules. Whether it be a spontaneous get-together or a monthly theme party with a sorority, we always manage to find ways to enjoy ourselves and the company of our brothers. Need a mid-week stress reliever? Intramural sports are a great way to cut loose with your brothers and have some fun. Whatever you're into, you'll be sure to find it in Phi Delta Theta.

-James Pfeifer - Social Chair
When thinking about why I joined Phi Delta Theta, I have come to one conclusion. I realized that I wanted a fraternity with a significant social side to provide a good balance with my academic workload. What I did not realize before becoming an active member of my fraternity is that brotherhood goes way beyond the time spent in our chapter room on Wednesday nights. I now recognize this as being the main reason why I enjoy being a Phi Delt as much as I do. There is no doubt in my mind that I could ask almost anything from any of my brothers. If I needed help with academics, there would be brothers there to help. If I needed a ride to the store, there would be brothers there to drive me. Each week I am reassured that Phi Delta Theta is, by far, the most dynamic group of individuals with whom I have ever been associated. It is through my fraternity that I have been able to better understand my place on Creighton’s campus.

-Steve Pistillo-Service and Social Justice Chair

Why Joining Phi Delta Theta Made a Difference

The first few days of recruitment had been a breeze. I dined on free food, played billiards, and even had a chance to try stickball on ice. However, at Phi Delta Theta’s formal event, my soon-to-be brothers presented a clear and inviting challenge: to develop my sense of brotherhood, moral rectitude and intellectual achievement. This is by no means an easy challenge. After all, how many college students actively consider if they are truly dedicated to community, ethics and sound learning? The brothers of Phi Delta Theta, in turn, also wanted me to challenge them to become a better brother. To say that I was nervous in accepting this challenge would be an understatement. I was nervous, but inspired at the same time. I realized that I would stand on the shoulders of giants—the brothers of Phi Delta Theta would lift me up to be a better person, and I would do the same for them. My brothers have pushed me to become more involved on campus and in the greater community, and they have offered a calming hand during personal trials. They have encouraged me to take a leadership role in the campus newspaper, and they were there for me when my father was sent to the emergency room after a heart attack. While joining a fraternity has not consumed my college career, the brothers of Phi Delta Theta have fundamentally shaped my four years at Creighton.

- Mike Gibilisco-Recruitment Chair

Brotherhood

When I arrived at the Phi Delta Theta events I was taken in by the immediate connection I had with the guys. The sense of brotherhood that these men had was something I had not really seen before. It was this feeling of brotherhood that solidified my decision to join Phi Delta Theta. Having now been an active member for over a year, I continually recognize the outstanding friendships and unmatched brotherhood that Phi Delt has brought to my life. It has truly given me relationships that will last for a lifetime.

Questions to Ask During Recruitment

- How is your fraternity involved within the community?
- What are your alcohol policies?
- How is your fraternity involved on Creighton’s campus?
- What leadership opportunities does your fraternity have available?
- What is the cost of membership?
- Can you tell me about your scholastic or academic programs.
- What will I gain from being in your fraternity?
