Creighton University

Creighton is a Catholic and Jesuit comprehensive university committed to excellence in its selected undergraduate, graduate and professional programs.

As Catholic, Creighton is dedicated to the pursuit of truth in all its forms and is guided by the living tradition of the Catholic Church.

As Jesuit, Creighton participates in the tradition of the Society of Jesus which provides an integrating vision of the world that arises out of a knowledge and love of Jesus Christ.

As comprehensive, Creighton's education embraces several colleges and professional schools and is directed to the intellectual, social, spiritual, physical and recreational aspects of student's lives and to the promotion of justice.

Creighton exists for students and learning. Members of the Creighton community are challenged to reflect on transcendent values, including their relationship with God, in an atmosphere of freedom of inquiry, belief and religious worship.

Service to others, the importance of family life, the inalienable worth of each individual, and appreciation of ethnic and cultural diversity are core values of Creighton.

Creighton faculty members conduct research to enhance teaching, to contribute to the betterment of society, and to discover new knowledge. Faculty and staff stimulate critical and creative thinking and provide ethical perspectives for dealing with an increasingly complex world.

Your Organization's Mission Statement

Student Activities recommends your executive board examines your mission statement each year to identify any possible revisions. Compare it to the University and Student Activities Office missions. Does your mission support ours? Does your mission drive you to help live out the Creighton ideals through your organization?

If yes, that's great! Share it with your organization's members. Let it be the force that drives your success this coming year.

If no, please consider changing it. Writing a new mission isn't hard. In fact, the information below can help you to in writing or revising a mission statement. Once you revise your mission statement, please submit it to the Student Activities Office so we can keep an updated record of your organization.

The Importance of Mission Statements

A mission statement is important because it addresses our basic need for definition and direction. It defines the purpose of the organization and the values and ethical principles by which members aspire to live. Furthermore, mission statements provide a foundation by which the organization should operate and create goals. It is very similar to the statement of purpose, found within the organization's constitution, but is more broad in scope and connects the organization's purpose with the Creighton University Mission and/or the Jesuit Values.

Creating and integrating an empowering mission statement takes time and commitment. If you plan to create an organizational mission statement or want to review the statement your organization has already created, you should refer to Creighton University's Mission Statement and consult the following list of statement characteristics as a guideline.

An empowering mission statement:

- Focuses on contribution and worthwhile purposes
- Should be created by organization members and executive officers
- Is based on timeless principles
- Contains both vision and principle-based values
- Addresses the needs of all participants
- Includes fulfillment in physical, social, mental, and spiritual dimensions
- Is written to inspire you – not to impress anyone else

If you need guidance in writing or revising a mission statement, a Student Activities staff member can certainly help in this process.

Overview of Student Organization Moderator Description

Why does each student organization need a staff or faculty moderator? Moderators serve an important role in the lives of students and organizations, and most moderators find their experience rewarding, inspiring, and an opportunity to share valuable time and talents with leaders for tomorrow. The purpose of this worksheet is to familiarize you with the role, selection, functions, and liabilities of a moderator.

The Student Activities Office is available to assist student leaders and moderators at all times. Please feel free to contact us at any time for assistance or if you need help accessing other University resources.

Role of the Moderator

A moderator usually shares a genuine interest in the student organization's purpose and wants to develop an informal, out-of-class relationship with a group of students who share that common interest. The moderator, as an experienced resource person, gives support to the group and is concerned about its function and continued progress. The overall goal of a moderator is to stimulate and develop a clear relationship between the student organization and the Jesuit mission of Creighton University.

The moderator does not set the policy of the group, but should take an active part in its formulation through interaction with the members and officers of the group. Since members and officers in any organization are ordinarily active only during their tenure as students, the moderator can serve as a continuity factor for the group. In order to retain recognition as a student organization, each student organization must have an active moderator.

The moderator of an organization should guide the group in its activities and its relationship to the University. Therefore, the moderator should be knowledgeable of University policies and procedures, including the policies and procedures of the Student Activities Office. The moderator should also help to develop the leadership potential within the group.

Selection of a Moderator

- A. The moderator must be a member of the Creighton University community. A faculty member, staff member, or administrator of the University may serve as an organizational moderator.
- B. Selection of a moderator is through the mutual consent of the: (1) the student organization; (2) the proposed moderator; and (3) the Student Activities Office.
- C. The moderator and the organization should jointly and periodically review the moderator's performance and mutually agree to the moderator's continuance in that position.

Functions of a Moderator

Specific functions of the moderator are listed below. Individual organizations may expand upon these through their constitutions.

- A. The moderator should serve as an academic resource for the organization, insuring that no one in academic difficulty serves in a key office, and offering assistance to any group members who are facing academic difficulties.
- B. The moderator should be aware of the organization's meetings and activities. He or she does not need to attend all of these activities, but attending at least one meeting per month is appropriate.
- C. The moderator should meet with the executive committee of the organization twice during each semester, or more times as necessary. Executive committee meetings are the ideal arenas for establishing a meaningful working relationship with a group and for demonstrating your interest and preparedness as a moderator
- D. The moderator should obtain minutes of all organizational meetings for review.

- E. The moderator should have a complete officer and membership list with addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers.
- F. The moderator should help the officers create and maintain an annual budget and help insure financial responsibility and ethical spending of organization funds.
- G. The moderator should be knowledgeable of the organization's purpose and constitution and help the general membership adhere to them. The moderator will inform the organization or veto a decision of the organization when it violates stated objectives, bylaws, codes, standing policies, University policies, or city, state, or federal laws.
- H. The moderator will be a custodian for all organizational records, paraphernalia, treasury registers, and other materials during the summer and during changeover of officers.

General Responsibilities and Duties

The following is a "Job Description" for moderators of student organizations. These duties are not binding by any agreement but are strong suggestions for being an effective moderator. Such lists can be very helpful for understanding the role, but further discussion with your group and their expectations will further develop your moderator role.

- Be a well-informed resource on University policies and procedures.
- Be a well-informed resource on the Jesuit mission and how to live out this mission.
- Be familiar with the organization's constitution and/or bylaws. Make certain that policies and procedures set by those documents are being followed.
- Approve all documents that require a moderator's signature.
- Be prepared to respond appropriately if the group experiences a crisis.
- Help the group evaluate elements of risk in their events.
- Attend and participate in moderator sessions offered by Student Activities Office.
- Develop good working relationships with group members.
- Communicate with group leaders regularly.
- Be reachable and approachable. Be visible!
- Serve as a "sounding board" for organization ideas. The proposal of some idea may require that the moderator play the "devils advocate" and explore possible consequences of actions.
- Be familiar with the organization's traditions and history.
- Guide the organization in developing activities consistent with their mission/purpose.
- Guide members in setting and accomplishing appropriate goals.
- Provide insight and suggestions from personal experiences and leadership opportunities, including your humor, hobbies, and interests.
- Mediate conflicts (when necessary).
- Monitor finances and provide oversight for the organization's treasurer.
- Encourage all members of the group to fully participate but maintain balance between academic responsibilities and co-curricular involvement.

Maintain registration throughout the year by keeping officer information current in the Student Activities Office. Failure to maintain registration form will result in that organization receiving a "not registered" status and lose all privileges of a Student Organization. After one year of "not registered" status, the organization is considered "inactive." In order for the organization to become registered again, the group is required to complete the SORC process
- Complete the Annual Activity Report in the spring of each year, or at the time of officer transition.
- Check the Student Organization Mailbox in the Student Activities Office on a weekly basis.
- Participate in training opportunities endorsed by the Student Activities Office.

9. Advertising and other promotional campus activities must not associate the consumption of alcohol with the performance of tasks that require skilled reactions such as the operation of motor vehicles or machinery.
10. Local off-campus promotional activities, primarily directed to students, must be developed in cooperation with the Associate Dean of Students.

Rationale: It is common practice for the Student Activities Office to ask student organizations and event organizers to supply the above information on their promotional materials to educate the public. This would be solidifying a common practice into policy.

7) Inactive and Dissolved Organizations Policy

Inactive Student Organizations

A student organization is considered “inactive” when the organization does not register with the Student Activities Office. The following are guidelines for inactive organizations:

- 1) When an organization is inactive for three full semesters and wishes to become registered again, the organization must meet with the staff coordinator for student organizations before being able to register again.
- 2) An organization is dormant when they have been inactive for four to six full semesters. If they wish to become a registered organization again, they must go through the Student Organization Review Committee in order to be considered for registration.
- 3) An organization is dissolved when they have not been registered in more than six semesters. The Student Activities staff will contact the president listed and faculty/staff moderator to let them know the Student Activities Office will be dissolving the organization within two weeks of the notification. The office staff will take the necessary steps to archive and terminate the organization’s files and bank account(s).

Dissolved Student Organizations

Each semester the staff coordinator for student organizations will work with the administrative assistant to determine which organizations have been inactive for more than six semesters. The following steps will be taken to archive and terminate the organization’s files and bank account(s):

- 1) In conjunction with the CSU vice president for finance, the staff coordinator for student organizations will determine if the organization has any existing funds with the Creighton Federal Credit Union. If funds exist, the organization’s constitution will be examined for directions on where to send the funds. Once funds are directed towards the proper area, the CSU vice president for finance will close the account.
 - a. For accounts under $25, the funds will be given to the Creighton Students Union to use in their general funds.
 - b. For accounts over $25 that are directed to be given to specific organizations, departments, or community agencies, the funds will be withdrawn and given to the correct area.
 - c. For organizations who do not state where to send their extra funds, the money will be given to the Creighton Students Union to use in their general funds.

- 2) The student organization data base will be updated to reflect that the organization is “dissolved” with a date recorded for when the file was updated.
- 3) The student organization’s files will be archived in the Student Activities files.

8) Posting Policies and Procedures

(from the Student Handbook)

The Student Activities Office manages the 17 official campus posting boards on the main university campus as a service to students, departments, organizations, and off-campus vendors. Registered Student Organizations, University departments and University affiliated vendors may post without approval from the Student Activities Office. Food Handling Guidelines

The purpose of this policy is to help student organizations that are selling or giving food away as part of a fund raising or promotional activity to avoid selling or distributing products that might be considered hazardous and dangerous to those who consume the food items.

What are considered hazardous food items?

Hazardous foods are defined in the State of Nebraska as a food that is natural or synthetic and requires temperature control because it is capable of supporting: the rapid and progressive growth of infectious or toxigenic microorganisms; the growth of botulism; or in raw shell eggs, the growth of Salmonella Potentially hazardous food includes an animal food (a food of animal origin) that is raw or heat treated; a food of plant origin that is heat-treated or consists of raw seed sprouts; cut melons; and garlic-in-oil mixtures that are not modified in a way that results in mixtures that do not support growth. "Potentially hazardous food" does not include: an air-cooled hard-boiled egg with shell intact, or a shell egg that is not hard-boiled but has been treated to destroy all viable Salmonellae; a food with an aw value (a measure of "Water Activity" – free water – in meat, poultry, fish and other foods – either, fresh or processed) of 0.85 or less; a food with a pH level of 4.6 or below when measured at 24° C (75° F); a food, in an unopened hermetically sealed container that is commercially processed to achieve and maintain commercial sterility under conditions of non-refrigerated storage and distribution; a food for which laboratory evidence demonstrates that the rapid and progressive growth of infectious or toxigenic microorganisms or the growth of salmonella in eggs or botulism cannot occur, such as a food that has an aw and a pH that are above the levels specified above and that may contain a preservative; other barrier to the growth of microorganisms, or a combination of barriers that inhibit the growth of microorganisms; or a food that does not support the growth of microorganisms even though the food may contain an infectious or toxigenic microorganism or chemical or physical contaminant at a level sufficient to cause illness.

Safe foods are dry and high-sugar foods such as breads, rolls, cakes (without cream fillings), fresh fruits, vegetables, cookies, crackers, candies, and dried foods such as granola, raisins and some dried meats such as beef jerky.

Any organization wishing to serve or sell food must follow these basic guidelines:

- Always wash hands and fingernails thoroughly before handling food
- Wear gloves whenever serving cooked or ready-to-eat foods
 - Gloves can be purchased from Sodexo Campus Services
 - Gloves should be changed as needed
 - Do NOT reuse gloves if torn/contaminated, or if you take them off.
- Make sure that all equipment has been thoroughly cleaned and sanitized. Should a serving piece fall to the ground or otherwise becomes contaminated it should be washed thoroughly in hot, soapy water, rinsed and immersed in hot water (140° F) that contains ½ tablespoon of chlorine bleach per gallon of water.
- Obtain food only from reliable sources. Never accept donated food if you do not know how it has been prepared or handled beforehand
- Wash all fresh food items thoroughly to remove soil, manure, bacteria and pesticides residue.
- Foods should be protected from contamination during distribution by being kept in covered serving dishes or containers.
- Keep raw foods separate from cooked and ready-to-eat foods. This helps to avoid transfer of bacteria and cross contamination.
- All processed meats (for example: ground beef, hot dogs) must be cooked to a temperature of 165° F (180° F for poultry) to kill bacteria. No rare hamburgers may be served. Student organizations may borrow thermometers from Sodexo for this purpose; should they be lost or broken, the organization will have to pay for their replacement.
- Cold foods must be kept below 40° F in ice-filled coolers.
- Hot foods must be kept above 140° F. Never leave prepared food standing at room temperature!
- Food should be served immediately following preparation.
- Foods should not be served for longer than 2 hours after which, regardless of their temperature, they should be disposed of. Paper plates, cups and other serving items should be kept clean. Should any of these fall to the ground or otherwise become contaminated, they should be thrown away.

Procedures to accomplish the above guidelines:

- To order food from University Dining Services, Godfather's or Blimpie, contact Catering at 280-2446.
- Only student organizations planning fund raising events or self-promotional events by selling / providing food items are exempt from the exclusivity clause of the University's food service agreement with its provider, Sodexo Campus Services.
- If the student organization wishes to use University serving or cooking equipment, or prepare food within University dining areas, including its kitchens, it must be done so under the supervision and direction of University Dining Services personnel and fees may be charged for this service.
- Student organizations must also complete a "Fundraising Registration Form" within the Student Activities Office.

If you have questions about what is safe to prepare or serve, or have other questions about food safety, please contact Mr. Greg Nestle, General Manager, University Dining Services, Brandeis Hall, 280-2750.

Alcohol Policies

Alcohol and the Creighton Student

Creighton University recognizes that alcohol is a major influence on today's college campus and that it has a responsibility to educate students and their families on University expectations regarding alcohol. Furthermore, Creighton recognizes that it must go beyond simply informing student and their families about the legal consequences resulting from alcohol use, as Creighton's response must also address the social realities of our students while continuing to promote and educate students about the benefits of living a healthy lifestyle. The following details Creighton's approach to alcohol education, the effects of alcohol on the human body, and the University's alcohol policies.

Creighton's Approach to Alcohol Education

As is mentioned later in this section, Creighton's alcohol policies are straightforward and enforce state and federal law. It is the University's educational position, however, that calls for a response to alcohol education that goes beyond legal consequences. At Creighton, we believe the response to alcohol education must also meet the health and wellness needs of our students, while also taking into account the decisions they may choose to make as a result of their need to socialize.

Creighton University expects its students to abandon high-risk drinking. Creighton's approach to alcohol education, entitled "Blue Zone: Zero to Three." The Blue Zone is defined as the following:

ZERO drinks if underage, driving, pregnant or on medication.

Never more than THREE drinks on any one occasion.

And remember never have more than ONE drink in an hour!

Creighton University defines one (1) drink as: a 12 oz beer, a 5 oz glass of wine, or a 1.25 oz shot of liquor, either straight or mixed. This definition is consistent with the guidelines from the National Institute for Alcoholism and Alcohol Abuse.

(Available at <http://www.niaaa.nih.gov>)

This educational approach to alcohol is Creighton's way of setting up students for success with the choices they are beginning to make as young adults. It is also an approach that challenges students to remember their responsibility to themselves and their own personal health as well as to the greater community.

Alcohol and the Body

Every person reacts differently to alcohol; some people are affected only slightly and others severely. Alcohol is a central nervous system depressant, which means the brain and spinal cord are affected and react more slowly when there is alcohol in a person's system. The more alcohol in the system, the more depressed is the central nervous system, and the greater effect. There are increased incidence of falls, accidents, vandalism, destruction of property, arguments, fights, acquaintance rape, other violence and risk-taking behavior when a person is under the influence of alcohol. There is diminished performance for 24-72 hours after having had too much to drink because of the byproducts produced from the metabolism of alcohol.

Some people are more susceptible to becoming addicted to alcohol than are others. This addiction is more likely to occur if a person drinks alcohol regularly at a young age (before 18) and/or if a parent, grandparent, aunt, uncle, brother or sister has a history of alcohol abuse. There is, as yet, no way to know who is most susceptible to developing alcoholism or any other adverse health effects from alcohol.

Creighton University's Alcohol Policies:

Creighton University defines misuse or abuse of alcohol as:

"Any alcohol-related behavior that adversely affects a person's life in regard to physical health, feelings of self-esteem, personal or family relationships, educational and occupational goals, or one's standing in regard to local, state or federal laws".

The University is committed to developing and sustaining University wide health norms to facilitate preventing problems related to drinking, providing resources for intervention and assistance, and maintaining a safe environment free of coercion for those who choose not to drink.

Thus, it is the position of Creighton University to promote informed choices about the responsible use of alcohol on its campus by all members of the community. Since it is important that people be aware of their responsibilities and University expectations, the following guidelines are set forth.

CARE (Creighton Alcohol Recovery and Education):

To assist students in an understanding of the impact alcohol can have on their lives, CARE is a program implemented to care for intoxicated students who could be in danger of hurting themselves or others. It provides students with proper medical attention and a safe environment in which to recover.

CARE Standard Operating Procedures for Intoxicated Students:

1. A student is identified as potentially being intoxicated by demonstrating impaired judgment, impaired reactions, decreased coordination or unresponsiveness.
2. A medical assessment and field sobriety tests are administered.
3. The student is transported to CUMC if determined appropriate by the medical assessment.
4. Parents are notified.
5. Student is assessed by a CUMC physician to determine course of action. At risk students are hospitalized or placed in CARE where they will be monitored by nursing staff and provided with fluids and food.
6. Student is released from CUMC with the approval of a CUMC physician, if the student is an on-campus resident, the Resident Director on Duty is notified.
7. The incident is documented and referred for disciplinary action, which normally results in a student status of disciplinary probation, withdrawal, suspension or expulsion; $250 restitution fee; and educational sanctions.
8. If the student fails to comply with CARE Standard Operating Procedures the student may be immediately suspended or expelled from the University.

On-Campus Alcohol Use:

1. Prior approval must be obtained from the Vice President for Student Services (or his/her designee) for any activity where alcohol is present. It will be necessary to complete and adhere to an alcohol contract obtainable from the Student Activities Office.
2. Any sponsoring organization or group which serves alcohol at their events must use trained servers from University Dining Service. Students must present a valid ID and their student ID.
3. Sponsoring organizations or groups assume responsibility for their social events. This responsibility includes insuring that only those of legal drinking age possess and/or consume alcoholic beverages, refusing to serve people who appear, act, or behave in an intoxicated manner; providing sufficient quantities of non-alcoholic beverages as dictated by the event and the crowd; and, finally, providing sufficient quantities of food throughout the event. In addition, the group has the responsibility of restricting alcohol to the designated area.

4. Advertisement for any event on campus shall be in good taste and conform to the posting policy. Those events involving alcohol shall conform to the "Creighton University Guidelines for Promotion of Events Where Alcohol Will Be Served".

5. Public advertising or open access to social events where alcoholic beverages are being served are not in the best interest of the sponsoring group or of Creighton University. Therefore, any event open to the general public will not be given permission to serve alcohol.

6. For those on-campus social events where students are present and alcoholic beverages are being served, Public Safety personnel shall be notified of the event by the sponsoring group or organization to determine whether or not an officer should be present. The sponsoring group is responsible for any expenses that might result.

7. Residents of the residence halls, if of legal drinking age, may possess alcohol within the confines of their room or apartment but may not use/consume it when minors are present.

8. Residents of the residence halls may not be a common source of alcohol for other residents or guests. A common source of alcohol is considered to be the equivalent of more than on 30-pack (30 12-ounce bottles or cans) of beer or malt liquor, more than 1.5 liters of wine, more than 750ml of liquor, or any combination of alcoholic beverages with a total amount that exceeds the quantities listed above. Kegs, beer balls and boxed wine are also considered common sources. Permission for special occasions may be sought from the Vice President for Student Services.

9. Consuming or possessing open containers of alcoholic beverages is prohibited in hallways, bathrooms, stairwells, general lounges, lobbies, study rooms, and all public areas.

Off-Campus Alcohol Use:

1. Student organizations holding off-campus events where alcohol is present are responsible for full compliance with the appropriate state law. In those rare cases where a student organization would fail to accept or assume responsibility, the officers of the organization will be held accountable for behavior of their members and their invited guests.

2. Greek organizations governed by Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils have implemented specific alcohol guidelines that must be adhered to by Greek organizations.

Violations

1. Violations of the Alcohol Policy will be referred to the Office of the Vice President for Student Services for the appropriate action.

2. Violations of the policy will be subject but not limited to:

a. suspension of "alcohol use" privileges.

b. fines

c. referral for evaluation (in case of individuals) of possible drinking related problems.

d. suspension of University approval for the sponsoring organization or group.

e. other University disciplinary action.

Douglas County (Omaha) and Nebraska State Laws Regarding Alcohol

1. No person shall sell, give away, dispose of, exchange, or deliver, or permit that sale, gift, or procuring of any alcoholic liquors, to any person under the age of twenty-one. Any person violating this law is guilty of a Class I misdemeanor.

2. No one under the age of twenty-one shall obtain, or attempt to obtain, alcoholic liquor by misrepresentation of age. Any person violating this law is guilty of a Class III misdemeanor.

3. No one under the age of twenty-one may sell or dispense or have in his or her possession or physical control any alcoholic liquor in any tavern or in any other place including public streets, alleys, roads, highways, or inside any vehicle. Any person violating this law is guilty of a Class III misdemeanor.

4. Any person who knowingly manufactures, creates, alters any form of identification for the purpose of sale or delivery of such form of identification to a person under the age of twenty-one shall be guilty of (a) a Class III misdemeanor for the first such offense and (b) a Class II misdemeanor for any second or subsequent offense. Forms of identification are defined as any card, paper, or legal document that may be used to establish the age of the person named thereon for the purpose of purchasing alcoholic liquors.

Guidelines for the promotion of events where alcohol will be served

1. Marketing programs specifically targeted for students on campus must conform to the Creighton University code of student conduct and must avoid demeaning sexual, racial, or other discriminatory references.

2. Promotion materials must neither encourage any form of alcohol abuse nor make reference to the amount of alcoholic beverage (such as the number of beer kegs available or expressions like "all you can drink.")

3. Alcoholic beverages (such as kegs or cases of beer) must not be provided as free awards to individual students or campus organizations.
4. No uncontrolled sampling as part of campus marketing programs shall be permitted and no sampling, or other promotional activities, shall include "drinking contests."
5. Where controlled sampling is allowed by law and institutional policy, it must be limited as to time and quantity. Principles of good hosting must be observed including availability of alternative beverages, food, and planned programs. The consumption of alcohol must not be the sole purpose of any promotional activity.
6. Promotional activities must not be associated with otherwise existing campus events or programs without the prior knowledge and consent of the Assistant Dean of Students Office.
7. Display or availability of promotional materials must follow the poster policy developed by Creighton University. All marketing programs must have educational value and subscribe to the philosophy of responsible and legal use of the products represented. All promotional materials will include the following language "Alcohol will only be available to those of age and with proper photo identification."
8. Alcohol advertising on campus or institutional media, including that which promotes events as well as product advertising, must not portray drinking as a solution to personal or academic problems of students or as necessary to social, sexual, or academic success.
9. Advertising and other promotional campus activities must not associate the consumption of alcohol with the performance of tasks that require skilled reactions such as the operation of motor vehicles or machinery.
10. Local off-campus promotional activities, primarily directed to students, must be developed in cooperation with the Associate Dean of Students.

Drug Use

Health Effects

Every person reacts differently to drugs; some people are affected only slightly and others are severely affected. There is no completely safe drug. Illicit drugs can be harmful to health for two reasons: the effect of the drug itself and the effect of by-products, which result from processing the illicit drug.

Almost all illicit drugs are used to change a person's mood, or the way s/he feels. Any drug that changes mood does so by affecting the central nervous system and changing its ability to react normally. For example, stimulants make the central nervous system overactive while narcotics and depressants decrease its ability to react. Illicit drugs also carry a high risk of psychological or physical dependence, i.e., the user starts to count on the drug to regulate his/her mood, and is unable to perform routine activities without using the drug. When the body develops tolerance for and dependence on a drug, then physical dependence (addiction) is the result. The body is unable to function without an adequate supply of the drug, and will have withdrawal symptoms when the supply is not adequate. Withdrawal may be as minor as discomfort (headache, restlessness and irritability) or result in major symptoms such as grand mal seizures, coma, and death. There is no certain way to know who is most likely to develop dependence, but it is known that people who have developed dependence on alcohol or have family members who are dependent on alcohol or drugs are at greater risk. Those who are frequently depressed, have suicidal thoughts, have had hallucinations or delusions should avoid street drugs because using them could make the illness worse, or cause a relapse.

Creighton Policy

As an academic institution, Creighton University's goal is to alleviate the problem of illegal drug use, preferably in a manner that educates rather than one that punishes. However, Creighton community members are subject to the same local, state and federal laws that govern all citizens, including those laws that concern the use, sale and possession of drugs. Therefore, persons engaging in such illegal actions will be subject to disciplinary procedure up to and including suspension and expulsion. Individuals cannot be protected by the University from the possible additional legal consequences of their acts.

The University policy concerning illegal drugs is as follows:

1. Creighton University considers the use, possession, cultivation, sale, distribution or transfer of any unlawful drug, including marijuana, unacceptable behavior that is incompatible with the educational goals of the university.
2. Students are considered to be responsible adult citizens, and as such, are subject to civil law. Email as the Official Means of Communication

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to establish an official means for University communications.

POLICY

The Creighton University assigned email account shall be the official means of communication with all students, faculty, and staff. All community members are responsible for all information sent to them via their University assigned email account. Members who choose to manually forward mail from their University email accounts are responsible for ensuring that all information, including attachments, is transmitted in its entirety to the preferred account.

All faculty, staff, and students are required to maintain an @creighton.edu computer account. This account provides both an online identification key and a University Official Email address. The University sends much of its correspondence solely through email. This includes, but is not limited to, policy announcements, emergency notices, meeting and event notifications, course syllabi and requirements, and correspondence between faculty, staff, and students. Such correspondence is mailed only to the University Official Email address.

Faculty, staff and students are expected to check their email on a frequent and consistent basis in order to stay current with University-related communications. Faculty, staff, and students have the responsibility to recognize that certain communications may be time-critical.

SCOPE

This communication strategy applies to all members of the University community – faculty, staff, and students. Units with employees that have limited access to a computer are asked to post University notices in an easily accessible space.

Food on Campus

The University Dining Services provider is Sodexo Campus Services. All catering needs on campus must utilize Sodexo Campus Services. All food provided in contracted University selected facilities must be provided by the University Food Service.

The Catering Office is available to provide food to all University facilities. Through policies on fundraising and on ethnic foods student organizations may prepare and serve food on a limited basis. The food must be prepared and handled in a safe manner and the activity must receive prior approval. Information about these policies is available in Student Activities (fundraising) or the Skutt Student Center Main Office (ethnic foods).

University Dining Services food provider is Sodexo Campus Services which, besides providing board and retail food operations on the campus, is the University's exclusive catering provider. Student organizations wanting exceptions to this policy should contact the Director of the Skutt Student Center and the Student Activities Office to determine if the organization is eligible for an exception. If approved, guidelines will be provided on the safe procurement and distribution or sale of food items.

Fundraising

Creighton recognizes that fundraising activities are often utilized by student organizations. However, no student may use University facilities (without charge) for personal gain. All student organizations wishing to hold a fundraiser must have a completed and approved fundraising form on file in the Student Activities Office prior to securing room or mall reservations and prior to the event.

Group Activity / Demonstrations

Creighton University is an academic community founded upon a belief in rational dialogue and mutual respect among its members. The opportunities for communication with the University are many and varied and the University welcomes suggestions for enlarging or improving them.

The nature of the academic community demands that all members strive to maintain the rational dialogue which is the cornerstone of the University. There is no conceivable issue, be it a question of academic and administrative policy or of student rights and freedoms that cannot be approached within the framework of free discussion.

The University also acknowledges the rights of members to express their views by way of individual or collective activity. For reason of general information, assistance, and courtesy, as well as good order, the University requires that those contemplating demonstrations and similar activity make their intentions known in advance to the Office of the Vice President for Student Services for approval.

Students who participate in demonstrations and similar activities which interfere with the rights of others or the orderly functioning of the University or civic community are subject to disciplinary action. Additionally, students who continue to disrupt the institution after being requested to disperse by the University, subject themselves to legal action. Non-members of the University community who participate in demonstrations and similar activities, which violate the above guidelines, render themselves liable to legal action.

Hazing and Initiation

The University strictly prohibits hazing - in any form, at any time - including hazing in connection with training, indoctrination, qualification for membership, functions or activities, or initiations conducted or sponsored by any student organization, athletic team, or group of students. Hazing includes any action taken or situation created, whether on or off campus, intended to produce or which may foreseeably produce unusual or unnecessary mental or physical discomfort or pain, embarrassment, harassment, ridicule or risk of physical, mental or emotional harm or injury.

Hazing also includes any action or situation which is intended to be or which may foreseeably be morally, physically, emotionally or mentally degrading to any individual, or which unnecessarily exposes any individual to any risk of physical, mental or emotional harm, injury or distress beyond the risks encountered in ordinary daily life, or which is intended to intimidate or has the effect of intimidating any individual to unwillingly or reluctantly engage in any activity, or which unreasonably interferes with scholastic activities or pursuits of any individual.

As examples, hazing includes, but is not limited to, any conduct or method of initiation into or participation in any student organization, athletic team, or other student group which willfully or recklessly endangers the physical or mental health of any student or other person, including, but again not limited to: whipping, beating, or branding; forced, coerced or required calisthenics or physically exerting activities; exposure to weather or the elements; forced, coerced or required consumption of any food, liquor, beverage, drug or other substance; any brutal or cruel treatment; and any activity which subjects any student or other person to extreme mental stress, including any extended deprivation of sleep or rest or extended isolation.

Any form of hazing is contrary to the Student Credo of Creighton. Any individual who believes she or he has been subjected to or has knowledge of hazing, should report the violation as soon as possible to the Assistant Vice President for Student Life.

The University fully reserves to University officials the authority to interpret this policy, and to apply the policy as so interpreted, to the actions of University students and organizations, as University officials in their discretion deem appropriate under the circumstances.

Serious disciplinary action will be imposed by the University upon any student or student organization, athletic team, or group of students found in violation of this policy, up to and including revocation of the charter of, and/or withdrawal of University privileges from, a student organization, athletic team or student group and suspension or dismissal from the University of individual students determined to have violated this policy.

Student Organizations

Student organizations are recognized as vehicles that increase a student's growth and leadership development. Creighton views student organizations as partners in the pursuit of this goal. These organizations provide students the opportunities to develop leadership skills, broaden social and professional perspectives, and contribute to the University and Omaha area. Through participation in these organizations, students are encouraged to share ideas, values, cultures, and activities with other members of the campus community.

Student Organization Requirements

- It is strongly encouraged that membership be open to all students without regard to race, color, national or ethnic origin, disability, sex, religion or sexual orientation. (Restricted membership may be granted if the organization provides adequate justification for this special status. Social fraternities and sororities may retain gender specific membership).
- All registered student organizations in good standing are eligible to apply for funding from Creighton Students Union except social fraternities and sororities.
- A moderator who is a faculty or staff member from Creighton University must agree to advise the organization.
- Officers, as defined by the organization's constitution, must be in good standing with the University (not on academic or disciplinary probation) at the time of their elections and throughout their terms in office. All officers must possess a 2.5 cumulative QPA or its equivalent to be eligible for office and maintain a minimum of 2.5 QPA or its equivalent while serving out their term. If an officer's cumulative QPA falls below the 2.5 minimum or its equivalent, he or she may be removed from office.
- As part of the initial application, the moderator and president must sign an agreement concerning compliance with any and all relevant University policies, procedures, rules, regulations and guidelines.
- Groups applying for registration must meet a need not presently met by any other organization or department on campus.
- The organization must live out the University mission and be consistent with values of the Catholic and Jesuit traditions in both purpose and practice.
- A registered group must contribute to the overall educational mission of the University. It must demonstrate that its activities will contribute to the advancement of social, moral, cultural, intellectual, physical, or spiritual development of its individual members and the University community.
- Creighton University does not necessarily endorse the views reflected and opinions expressed by student organization members or during their events. Student organizations must assume full responsibility for their members and the events they sponsor. Creighton University assumes no responsibility for student organizations.

Seeking registration takes time and forethought. A group must submit a constitution, mission statement, schedule of events, and completed application to be considered for registration as an organization. Once the Student Activities Office receives these materials, the "pending" organization has access to limited services while waiting for approval. The "pending" organization will be asked to meet with the Student Organization Review Committee (SORC), which meets twice per year.

The University extends certain privileges to each registered student organization. Along with those privileges come certain responsibilities that are expected of each organization. Please see “Responsibilities and Privileges”, found on the Student Activities web page, for further details.

While the University respects the right of individual students and student organizations to express their ideas, it is understood that such expressions or views remain those of the individuals or organizations and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting University opinion or as an endorsement by the University.

The University reserves the right to deny or withdraw official registration for any student group which (a) permits membership therein by persons who are not Creighton University students; (b) does not organize itself and conduct its activities in accordance with the provisions of this Handbook; or (c) has any purpose(s), aim(s), objective(s) and/or philosophy which, in the sole judgment of the University, is or are contrary to or inconsistent with the best interests of the University or the Credo, purposes, mission, or objectives of the University. Only student groups that are officially registered are permitted to use University facilities or services, to identify themselves in any way with the University, and to share in other privileges or support for which student groups registered by the University are eligible.

Once you have chosen a workshop, please fill out the request form and email it to sao@creighton.edu or bring it to the Student Activities Office in the Skutt Student Center. Requests must be received at least one week before the requested date.

Break Away—This workshop will help students assess those things that limit them or hold them back, as well as what motivates them to move forward. How can we use our energy to push or break through the negative and become more positive and productive people? This is best for smaller groups, particularly executive boards. This workshop lasts approximately one hour and the organization may be required to pay for supplies.

Communication—Communication is key in helping any group be successful. Learn some communication strategies and ways to improve how you work with others.

Game of Life/Game of Oppression—Our staff can facilitate a game that will help your members reflect on power, privilege, and diversity. A large group (30+) is needed for the Game of Life. The Game of Oppression is best played with groups of 15 or less. One to two hours are needed for both games.

Go Green: Recruit, Retain, Reward—For student organizations that are having trouble recruiting or retaining members or for organizations that just need to step it up; this presentation offers a little bit of both and ends with how to reward your organization membership.

The workshop can be done on campus with a Sodexo-catered meal or at a location close to campus. The organization is responsible for setting up and paying for the meal; the Student Activities staff will only provide the presentation and handouts. This workshop is approximately one hour.

Officer Transitions—Does your organization need help planning officer transitions? We can help a student plan an effective transition meeting or we can also help facilitate a transition meeting so that your organization will be set up for success by the previous officers.

Transitioning Leadership Positions

While it is important for you to be a strong leader when you are an officer of a student organization, it is equally important to transfer your knowledge and skills to incoming officers. If you need help with the transitions process, please contact the Student Activities staff or your moderator.

Successful transitioning includes:

- Holding elections one month prior to the actual transfer of leadership
- Officers sharing or shadowing positions for a few weeks
- Allowing new officers to begin their positions before the end of the academic year
- Sharing your legacy with your successor

Effective elections:

- Educate members about position responsibilities
- Solicit candidates ahead of time
- Have members nominate candidates they think are qualified
- Require biographical sketches and short speeches
- Provide voters with biographical sketches on “election day” and introduce all candidates so that voters are well informed
- Always vote by secret ballot
- Follow your constitution’s guidelines

Sharing your legacy

Pass on the following information to your successor

- A copy of the completed Annual Activity Report
- A summary of the year:
 - What worked well
 - What did not work well
 - Any suggestions you have for improvement(you could use the worksheet on the next page to guide you in this process)
- Budget report
- Constitution for your organization
- Contact names and phone numbers used over the past year
- Pass this book along to the new officer so he/she is aware of the policies and procedures, as well as the privileges and responsibilities of being a registered student organization
- Historical information about your organization
- Listing of the past year’s events
- Roster of past and current members
- Your dreams for the organization that you were unable to fulfill

Transition Preparation

You can use this worksheet to help in preparing for officer transitions. Please contact Student Activities if you would like help with your executive board's officer transitions.
