Instructor
Lynn Scott, M.S., holds a B.A. from the University of Kansas with majors in Spanish and Psychology. She also has an M.S. degree in Guidance & Counseling from the University of Nebraska at Omaha with an emphasis in cross-cultural counseling with Latinos.

Lynn has taught Spanish for over twenty five years in public, private and parochial secondary schools. She has also been an instructor for several colleges, health care providers, businesses and individuals. She has also worked as a department head in a psychiatric facility.

The instructor and planning committee members have indicated they have no financial affiliations that would be considered a conflict of interest for this course.
