My, oh my! How the time goes by! It's been almost six months now since I've first met Jeffrey, but it seems as though it was just yesterday. I can remember Ashly calling our names as we both stood up and scanned the room anxiously to find each other. Of course, it didn't take long before Jeffrey saw an overly excited, very tall guy walking towards him. As we got to talking, I remember we discussed football and who we thought would make it to final game in the college arena, but this was really just buying us time for what was really on both our minds... ICE CREAM!!! Indeed, Jeffrey and I share many common interests and while getting to spend more and more time with Jeffrey there's never a dull moment as we have too many inside jokes to count by now.

I am John Dentlinger and I am a sophomore, exercise science pre-Physical Therapy student here at Creighton University. I'm hoping to be a Resident Advisor next year in either freshman or sophomore living and then go into Physical Therapy school after my junior year. I have two older sisters; one of whom goes to Creighton Med School and the other who has a full time job as a mother with four children (Andy, Noah, Grant and Ava) making me a very happy uncle! I was born in raised in small town Iowa which still has a special place in my heart.

Jeffrey Hammernik is, and will continue to be, a great friend to me. He has been fun to hang out with and easy to talk to throughout the short six months that we've had with each other. While getting to hang out, we've done things such as haunted houses, movie nights, going to a Lancers hockey game, relaxing and listening to our favorite song (Iron Man), and going to a high school basketball game which Jeffrey helps coach and scout the opponent teams.

Jeffrey and I always seem to have a great time whenever we get to hang out and I look forward to our get togethers no matter what the activity because I know that it will be a great time as long as we're together!

Buddy Profile: Katie and Jana

By Katie Jacobs

I can't believe how much my friendship with my Best Buddy, Jana, has grown since we first met only a few months ago in September. For the both of us, this is our first year in Best Buddies, so we have been able to learn and experience what it's all about together!

Jana Harder, my Buddy, is a fun-loving and happy person. She loves going to work at her workshop during the week and has never once had a complaint about working, although I complain all the time about having to do homework and study. I look forward to calling Jana every week. Whenever I call her, Jana is usually watching one of her favorite movies. Most times, she tells me the movie is "Miss Congeniality," one of her all-time favorites. Jana loves to dance and sing, obvious from the fact that when music comes on in a movie or on the radio, she starts to dance and sing along, much like I like to do too. She loves to spend quality time with her mom and dad and loves when the dogs visit too.

Like Jana, I also love dogs, and to dance and sing when a good song comes on. I am a sophomore this year. I am an undeclared psychology major with a biology or Spanish minor. I hope to be accepted to medical school sometime after graduation, but my plans could always change. I am from Minnesota, and I absolutely love home, although the winters can be brutal! I love to run outside and read all kinds of books when I am not studying.

Whenever Jana and I get together, we like to eat. Hamburgers, chocolate chip cookies. We like pretty much any kind of snack food you can think of! Two weeks ago, Jana and I made jumbo chocolate chip cookies with extra chocolate chips, and we devoured quite a few of them pretty quickly, getting chocolate all over our fingers! I think Jana and I have a great friendship that will hopefully continue to grow stronger over the next few years. I always look forward to hanging out with her at the group events and our one-on-one activity times. I am so grateful to have met her through Best Buddies, and I could not ask for a greater buddy than Jana!
