Jesuit Institute on Interreligious Dialogue and Mission
For all involved in Jesuit ministries

June 22 – July 1, 2009

Santa Clara University
Santa Clara, CA

Facilitated by the Advisory Board on Interreligious Dialogue & Mission
U. S. Jesuit Conference

This intensive summer institute, tailored for Jesuits and women and men involved in Jesuit ministries and facilitated by John Borelli (Georgetown), Raymond A. Bucko, S.J. (Creighton), Francis X. Clooney, S.J. (Harvard), James W. Reites, S.J. (Santa Clara), and Patrick J. Ryan, S.J. (Fordham), provides introductions to Catholic teaching and the Jesuit heritage for interreligious dialogue and relations, introductions to Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, and Native American traditions and relations, and an update on Jewish relations. The facilitators will address the pastoral and educational interests and needs of participants. Visits to temples and Muslim Friday prayers are being arranged.

Arrival on Monday, June 22                     Departure anytime on July 1

Tuition: $550
Rooms:  $65 a night / $585 for nine nights
Meals:   Approximately $35 per diem

Participation limited to 25                     A fee of $50 reserves you a place.
Registration Deadline: May 15, 2009             Remainder due by June 1, 2009

Checks should be made out to “Georgetown University”

For registration and information
Contact:              Coordinator:      Office of the President
                               Dr. John Borelli      U. S. Jesuit Conference
Georgetown University
Washington, DC 20057-1789
202 687-4005             borellij@georgetown.edu
MLP34@georgetown.edu