

The Union of Minds and Hearts

Celebrating the Spiritual Roots of Creighton University

AN INTRODUCTION FOR NEWCOMERS

The Union of Minds and Hearts: Celebrating the Spiritual Roots of Creighton University, An Introduction for Newcomers is a welcoming invitation to new members of the Creighton community—new students, faculty, staff, and others interested in our spiritual heritage—to learn about our rich Creighton history, explore Ignatian spirituality as it applies to our university context, and celebrate our common mission to “find God in all things.” In this little collection, we have assembled noted Creighton Jesuits and lay partners to introduce readers to the profound spiritual world view that permeates our university’s community and continues to inspire us today to live “Ad majorem Dei gloriam,” for the greater glory of God. Newcomers will find here the essentials to become fully incorporated into this vibrant Ignatian community, including an introduction to “Ignatian-speak,” a simple method of integrating prayer into daily life, and translating faith into action. For the ultimate insider’s guide to navigating Creighton’s spiritual waters, this book is the lifeboat, oars, and compass. Come on in and join us—the water is fine!
