

Advanced Education Nurse traineeship grant

Master's Students in good standing who plan to engage in full time study (8 sm. hrs or more) in both Fall and Spring semesters for the upcoming year are eligible to apply for an Advanced Education Nurse traineeship grant. Part time students (4 semester hours or more) who will graduate in the upcoming Spring or Summer term are also eligible. The purpose of the traineeship is to foster full time study and increase the number of advanced practice nurses in the workforce. Although designed to support tuition and offer a stipend, due to the number of applicants and the limited funds available--traineeships typically provide only a modest tuition reduction.

For further information and to apply by May 1st for following academic year contact:

Joan Norris, PhD, RN
Professor
Associate Dean for Research and Evaluation
402-280-2023
jono@creighton.edu

or

Jan Schnack
Sr. Administrative Assistant 402-280-3107
jschnack@creighton.edu

Nurse Faculty Loan Program (NFLP) Grant

This grant is in response to the nurse educator shortage. It is designed to assist graduate students who wish to pursue an advanced practice degree that includes enrolling in education courses. Creighton University School of Nursing's program allows the graduate student to pursue a combined option as an advanced practice (Nurse Practitioner or Clinical Nurse Specialist) and nurse educator. The NFLP Loan will cover the student's tuition, fees, and texts.

For further information on eligibility requirements, please contact

Mary Kunes-Connell, PhD, RN
Associate Professor
Associate Dean for Academic and Clinical Affairs:
Graduate and Undergraduate Programs
402-280-2024
mkc@creighton.edu