ACCELERATED NURSING PROGRAM

A PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY, HASTINGS COLLEGE
AND MARY LANNING MEMORIAL HOSPITAL – HASTINGS, NEBRASKA

▶ Begin with your bachelor's degree from Hastings College

Most Hastings College students complete a Liberal Arts Program that includes at least one recognized major field and a series of general education requirements. Hastings College believes that students who receive a broad educational foundation are uniquely suited to meet the changing needs of our society.

The primary goal of the Liberal Arts Program at Hastings College is to stimulate intellectual curiosity and excitement essential to lifelong learning. Specifically, the goals aim to develop in students:

- an understanding of the ways of inquiry and the organization of knowledge, which characterize the different academic disciplines;
- an awareness of connections among the different academic disciplines that generate knowledge;
- an ability to communicate effectively through listening, speaking, reading, and writing;
- an experience and appreciation of the diversity of cultures in the United States and the world;

- an ability to make good and moral judgments, judgments made consciously and defensibly;
- a sense of personal responsibility for the cultivation of habits essential to life-long learning, community service, physical fitness, and optimum health.

While students can choose from 61 majors and still be able to complete the required courses for Creighton University Medical Center's Accelerated Nursing Program curriculum, students who major in health systems will find this an excellent option. Strengths of the major, beyond meeting all admission criteria, include:

- extended liberal arts program
- ability to have an additional major/minor
- quality physical and biological science background
- strong behavioral science background
- participation opportunities in athletics, forensics, music, and others.

▶ Step up to a BSN from Creighton University School of Nursing

The Accelerated Nursing Program enables a college graduate with a baccalaureate degree to earn a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree in 12 months. It is an intensive program of study that condenses a four-year program into one full year. Classes start each August.

The program:

- prepares excellent nurses who are strong in theoretical knowledge and clinical skills;
- provides an opportunity to change careers efficiently and effectively;
- promotes a climate that respects each person's past experiences and builds on those strengths;
- has earned Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) Accreditation;
- has financial aid available to qualifying students;
- is one of only a few existing programs of this type in the nation.

The demand for well-educated nurses who can practice in a myriad of health care settings has skyrocketed. Creighton University gives its students the opportunity to meet challenges of the changing health care environment by helping them develop skills, knowledge and lifelong learning proficiency necessary to practice across multiple settings: critical care, outpatient care, public health, home care, and mental health, for example.

The care management model adopted by faculty has received national recognition. Accelerated students complete a seven-week preceptorship that enables them to work side-by-side with a BSN-prepared nurse.

Earn a degree from Hastings College, and enroll in the one-year Creighton University School of Nursing's Accelerated Nursing Curriculum. Earn two degrees in five years!

Characteristics of the Accelerated Nursing Program student are:

- Goal-oriented
