

Some remarks from Xuchyll's supervisor:

As a front desk worker, Xuchyll is the face of Admissions. This is where Xuchyll shines. In addition to professionalism, being personable is key to working at the front desk. Xuchyll has interacted with thousands of potential students in person, on the phone, and via web conference. She is always smiling and able to strike up a conversation at the drop of a hat.

She has helped us to implement a new program with prospective students from Hawaii. She helped us set up a webcam so that students on the islands could ask questions of current Creighton students. This program was held on a Sunday night, during Spring Break. So, Xuchyll came in voluntarily on her break to help implement this program and make sure it went off without a hitch. She will also always seek out extra work whenever she is done with hers.

As I mentioned before, Xuchyll pioneered the idea of the Hawaii Admitted Student Day. This is the fourth year in which she will coordinate the web conference for this. She has met with almost 1000 prospective students, and we have enrolled 236 students from Hawaii in her three years working here in no small part due to her.

She also brings a hard working attitude, as she comes from a blue collar school and has a blue collar work ethic. She has not been handed anything in her education, but has had to work for it both in the classroom and in our office.

Joe Bezousek
Associate Director
Office of Undergraduate Admissions

March, 2013