CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY MISSION & VALUES

Mission Statement

Creighton is a Catholic and Jesuit comprehensive university committed to excellence in its selected undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs.

As Catholic, Creighton is dedicated to the pursuit of truth in all its forms and is guided by the living tradition of the Catholic Church.

As Jesuit, Creighton participates in the tradition of the Society of Jesus which provides an integrating vision of the world that arises out of a knowledge and love of Jesus Christ.

As comprehensive, Creighton’s education embraces several colleges and professional schools and is directed to the intellectual, social, spiritual, physical, and recreational aspects of students’ lives and to the promotion of justice.

Creighton exists for students and learning. Members of the Creighton community are challenged to reflect on transcendent values, including their relationship with God, in an atmosphere of freedom of inquiry, belief, and religious worship.

Service to others, the importance of family life, the inalienable worth of each individual, and appreciation of ethnic and cultural diversity are core values of Creighton.

Creighton faculty members conduct research to enhance teaching, to contribute to the betterment of society, and to discover new knowledge. Faculty and staff stimulate critical and creative thinking and provide ethical perspectives for dealing with an increasingly complex world.

The Creighton University community is dedicated to the promotion of values consistent with personal and academic excellence.

Choosing to join this community, whether as a student, faculty or staff, obligates you to act in a manner that is consistent with these commitments. Joining the Creighton University community evidences your acceptance of these commitments and agreement to strive for their achievement. Commitment to living by these principles means that you will endeavor to:

1. Act with professional, academic, and personal integrity.

Consistent with this principle is conduct in accord with the academic honesty policy of the University, other University policies that foster a human community of justice, respect, and concern, and the code of ethics of your foreseen profession. This principle challenges you to shape a personal code of positive values, to live a healthy, balanced lifestyle, and to discover and embrace the responsibilities of your freedom, intelligence, and intrinsic worth.

Inconsistent with this principle are all forms of dishonesty, excuse-making, failure to take responsibility for your behavior, infidelity or disloyalty in personal relationships and violations of the code of ethics of your foreseen profession.

2. Respect and promote the dignity of all persons.

Consistent with this principle is growing in understanding of different cultures and groups, resolving conflicts fairly, appreciating peoples’ differences, and seeking truths and values essential to human life and community. This principle challenges you to refrain from actions that threaten or discourage the freedom, personal safety, and respect that all individuals deserve.

Inconsistent with this principle are actions that compromise or demean the intrinsic worth of individuals or groups. All forms of racism, sexism, pornography, lewd behavior, harassment, discrimination, intimidation, taunting, insult, physical harm, and discrimination are inconsistent with this principle.

Inconsistent with this principle are actions that are illegal or that violate another’s right to move about freely and securely, to live and learn in a community where members are secure in their property and person, to express themselves appropriately, and to enjoy privacy.

4. Support the personal, professional, academic, and vocational development of the members of the Creighton University community.

Consistent with this principle are actions that are compassionate and considerate of the needs and well being of others and that encourage the development of our moral, spiritual, intellectual, emotional, personal, and vocational abilities.

Inconsistent with this principal are actions that are insensitive, inhospitable, spiteful, or which unjustly or arbitrarily inhibit another’s ability to securely pursue goals in accord with the development of their abilities.

This Code of Conduct applies to all Creighton University students. All members of the Creighton University community are obliged to promote actions consistent with these principles, and appropriately confront, challenge, and respond to actions that are inconsistent with this code.
The White and the Blue

Words and music by Gordon Richmond.

The White and the Blue!

Colors two, it is you we defend.

Fearless for you,

Our might to the fight we will lend.

So: wave, colors, wave

We will fight on for your glory.

White and Blue!

We will fight till the fight is won.

Greek Life

Scholarship • Leadership • Development • Service • Faith
• Brotherhood & Sisterhood

Scholarship: The men and women in our community seek excellence in their academic pursuits. Greek organizations at Creighton University promote academic achievements through activities such as study hours, awards, speakers, scholarships, networking, and career advice from alumni. All chapters maintain a QPA for membership. The minimum requirement to participate in recruitment activities is a cumulative 2.5 QPA.

Leadership: Fraternities and Sororities foster strong leadership. Chapters help members to develop leadership skills through involvement in the chapter and throughout campus. Many of the top student leaders on the Creighton campus are affiliated with our Greek community! As self-governing organizations, our Greek members gain valuable leadership experience. The Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils help coordinate the programming efforts of our chapters, while our Greek Standards Board holds our members accountable for their actions. Greek students are also able to engage in leadership opportunities through working on the strategic planning team, participating in the Emerging Greek Leaders Programs and various other events hosted by the community. Greek Life seeks to prepare students to be successful while on campus and for life after Creighton.

Development: The Greek community at Creighton is committed to creating well-rounded and successful individuals. Fraternities and sororities aid in the social development of their chapter members through workshops about leadership, self-esteem, living the values of their organization, preparing for the professional world, and health and wellness to name a few. The community also hosts programming about mature use of alcohol and alternatives to hazing. Fostering a positive, productive and healthy Greek experience is foundational to the community.

Service: The concerns of Greek men and women extend far beyond the confines of campus life. Greek chapters host a multitude of events to support those in need on a national and local level and sponsor an annual fall break service trip. A few of the groups who benefit from the work of our Greek students includes: the Siena Francis house, St. Jude research hospitals, The Omaha Boys and Girls Club, Kellom Elementary, American Heart Association, Habitat for Humanity, and The Charles E. Lakin Center. The community performed over 22,000 hours of service last year.

Faith: Greek students are encouraged to express and share their faith as they feel is appropriate. Chapters offer their members opportunities to reflect and widen their world view. Greek students often engage with the Jesuit community on campus on this topic as well.

Brotherhood & Sisterhood: There is no doubt that one of the best things that Greek Life has to offer is brotherhood and sisterhood. Chapter social programs create opportunities to meet new friends. Chapters strive to implement activities that create a stimulating environment in which you develop into a mature and responsible individual. The wide variety of projects in which students become involved gives everyone a chance to do something they enjoy.

Facts about Greek Life: Over 30% of Creighton undergraduates is affiliated with the Greek community.

The All-Greek QPA (Quality Point Average) of 3.422 is consistently higher than the All-University average.

Creighton University withholds all freshmen recruitment activities until second semester to encourage prospective members to acclimate to college life and concentrate on academics before adding involvement in the Greek community.

Mission Statement

The Department of Residence Life strives to provide a holistic, living-learning experience in order to support Creighton University’s Catholic and Jesuit mission and tradition.

Through community, we aspire to facilitate students’ deeper understanding and commitment as agents of change for a global society through dialogue and reflection…

The Residence Halls and Apartment Complexes at Creighton

Deglman Hall - Located in the center of campus, Deglman is the home of the Cortina Community where freshmen through seniors live together in a community oriented towards service, justice and faith. There’s a lot of space in the Deglman community room to “hang out,” discuss issues, watch movies, and/or do homework.

Gallagher Hall - Gallagher Hall, located on the west side of campus, is a co-educational hall, housing 195 students on four floors. Gallagher’s recently remodeled first floor is a “living room” for socializing and unwinding and includes a kitchenette.

Kiewit Hall - Almost 500 freshmen men and women call the nine floors of Kiewit Hall their home. Kiewit is adjoined to Becker Dining Hall with close access to the VJ and Angela Skutt Student Center and Kiewit Fitness Center. There is also a chapel, Muslim Prayer Room, and main hall lobby in the building as well as a conference room, study lounge, and a TV area. Kiewit is also the home to our Freshman Leadership Program.

Swanson Hall – Swanson is a nine-story residence hall housing both freshmen and sophomores. It is located in the center of campus and features suite-style living, as well as a chapel on first floor. Swanson Residence Hall is also home to the freshman Honors Scholars Community on 9th floor.

Living on Campus.

All of our on-campus options are designed to meet the needs and expectations of today’s students in an environment that features independence with a continued sense of community.

Sophomores are assigned to McGloin, Kenefick, Swanson and Heider Halls. McGloin and Swanson have suite-style rooms which include bathrooms and walk-in closets. Kenefick and Heider offer spacious living in efficiency and one-bedroom apartments.

The University provides 12 month housing for 540 juniors and seniors in Davis Square and Opus Hall. Davis Square and Opus Hall are apartment-style complexes that allow students to enjoy the best of our dynamic campus community. Students live in furnished apartments in two, three and four bedroom floor plans with a full kitchen! All the amenities a student could ask for plus the convenience of living on-campus!
Learning and Leading in the Campus Community

Freshmen Leadership Program (FLP): Creighton University’s Freshman Leadership Program (FLP), consist of 60 first-year students, 20 mentors, 8 executive team members, one student coordinator and two staff advisors. Students live on the 9th floor of Kiewit Hall and engage with new ways of viewing leadership through weekly seminars, service, an academic course, retreats, community activism, and much more.

The Honors Scholars Community is home to 50 first-year women and men who are admitted to the Honors Program, which provides a rigorous and innovative four-year individualized approach to learning at the collegiate level. Students live together on the 9th floor of Swanson Hall during their first year in the program, with a live-in Jesuit chaplain as well as two upperclass Honors students serving as resident advisors. The floor has plenty of space for studying, cooking, lounging, and more! The community lives and learns together, and our students walk away with lifelong friendships and memories.

The Cortina Community is named after the late Father Jon Cortina, SJ, who taught engineering at the University of Central America in El Salvador. His life of service in the university and in the rural community of Guarjila has provided a prophetic example of navigating vocational discernment with a sense of personal joy and knowledge of the needs of our communities in mind. With Fr. Cortina as an example, Freshmen and Sophomores in the Cortina Community serve in Omaha, discuss social issues, take common classes, and live in joyful community together in Deglman Hall.

Leadership in Residence Life

Residence Hall Council/Apartment Council (RHC/AC) - Each Freshman/Sophomore Hall and Apartment has an RHC/AC with several elected leadership positions. The RHC/ACs provide opportunities for students to begin to develop to their fullest leadership potential. Typically RHC/ACs plan events ranging from community builders to stress relievers to skill builders and much more. If you are living in a residence hall or apartment and you want to be involved on campus this is a great way to begin your leadership career at Creighton University. The Inter Residence Hall Government (IRHG) is the second largest undergraduate student organization on Creighton’s campus. Each year they provide an array of programs to all students living in the Residence Halls and Apartments and their families and friends. There are several opportunities to get involved with IRHG through committees and senator positions.

What is University Ministry?

University Ministry is the division of the University that focuses on the spiritual growth and development of students, faculty and staff at Creighton University. The purpose is to bring about a world community based on our spiritual journey which leads to God’s love, freedom and justice.

Six University Ministry Departments serve the Creighton community with a variety of ministries that call forth the gifts of the entire community.

In service of the Jesuit Catholic character of Creighton, we gather the gifts of this richly diverse community that we all might grow in freedom as women and men for others.

Here are the six departments of University Ministry:

Creighton University Retreat Center

Located in quiet surroundings, the Creighton University Retreat Center in Griswold, Iowa is committed to supporting the spiritual development of the students, faculty, staff, and alumni/ae of the University. It is indeed a place where a person can respond to the Lord’s invitation to “Come away & rest for awhile”.

The Center is available for retreats, day-long and week-long conferences, private gatherings, business meetings, club meetings, and a variety of social, business, and educational activities.

Available for all students, faculty, staff, and alumni/ae are: the Jogues Lodge, Cottages, the Loyola Dining Hall, and the Xavier Chapel.

Online Ministries

Daily Reflections

Drop in online every day to read a brief reflection. You will be amazed at how faculty and staff reveal their own personal struggles and deep reflections about how to cope with our every day life, with faith.

Online Retreat in Daily Life

Here’s a retreat that will change your life. Just check in every week, let the reflection be part of whatever else is going on that week, and it becomes a 34-week journey to greater freedom.

Weekly Guide to Daily Prayer

A once-a-week look at the readings for the week ahead. In a simple one-page format, see what the readings are about and how they reflect the desires in our hearts before God.

Lots of Resources

Many other resources are available on the Online Ministries web site, including justice links and documents, Advent and Lent daily prayer and many other ways to reflect on our relationship with God and with others.
Institute for Latin American Concern

The ILAC Office has partnered with the ILAC/CESI (Centro de Educacion para la Salud Integral) Center, a Dominican non-profit organization, in Santiago, Dominican Republic for over 35 years. Its purpose is to coordinate the groups of student and professional volunteers from the United States in building friendships across cultural, linguistic, and socioeconomic barriers, to develop their individual faith and spirituality, as well as to provide much needed services to Dominican and Haitian communities.

Creighton University has two programs that undergraduate students can become involved in during their time at Creighton:

- The oldest program is the Summer Healthcare Program in which nursing, pharmacy, medical and dental students and professionals from the respective disciplines, as well as undergraduates work together in inter-disciplinary teams to run clinics in the rural communities for five weeks. Students live with host families, work in the clinic, participate in spiritual reflections, practice Spanish, and integrate into the hosting communities’ daily life.

- During the Water Quality Program, undergraduate students spend three weeks visiting rural camps to analyze water samples and correct problems with water filters. Following the analysis, students return to the communities to explain the results and teach the Dominicans about the correct usage and maintenance of the water filters.

Graduate and professional students can also participate in the Occupational Therapy Program, Physical Therapy Program, Law Program, and fourth year medical student rotation in OB-GYN.

The ILAC Office is located in Room 262 in the Criss III Building. The phone number is 402-280-3179 or 1-800-343-3645. The website is http://www2.creighton.edu/ministry/ilac/index.php

CU Center for Service and Justice (CCSJ)

A majority of the incoming freshman class has had some form of community service experience in high school. The CCSJ wants to help you continue that commitment to service and build new relationships as you enter the Creighton and Omaha communities.

Weekly Service

We partner with a number of sites around the Omaha metro area and provide students an opportunity to drop-in for one-time or consistent volunteer experiences each week. If your interests are beyond the sites we are offering, stop by and we can help you find the right service fit.

Service & Justice Trips

Faculty, staff, and students consistently say that going on a Service & Justice Trip is one thing that you should do before graduation. Why not go right away? Each Fall and Spring Break hundreds of students go all across the country to serve and learn on half and full week Service & Justice Trips. Whether we are working in a homeless shelter in Albuquerque, learning about mountaintop removal in West Virginia, or doing hurricane relief in New Orleans, we have opportunities for all service passions.

Ignatian Advocacy

We can also enhance your passions for making the world a better place by introducing you to students who have similar hopes and dreams. Our students consistently meet with local, state, and national leaders to advocate for policy reform on several key justice issues.

Come visit us in Harper 2067, online at www.creighton.edu/ccsj, find us on Facebook at facebook.com/creightonccsj or on Twitter @Creighton_ccsj
Deglman Center for Ignatian Spirituality

The Deglman Center for Ignatian Spirituality exists to promote, explain, and encourage the Ignatian identity of Creighton’s mission. The Director of the Deglman Center, Fr. Larry Gillick, S.J., welcomes students seeking spiritual direction, encouragement in prayer, and personal reflection and growth.

Come visit us in the main office of St. John’s Church or at creighton.edu/DeglmanCenter. Drop by our office at St. John’s, or call 402-280-2773 for an appointment.

Ratio Studiorum Program (RSP) & Advising

RSP is Creighton’s academic advising and orientation program for freshman and sophomores. It introduces students to the requirements, challenges and rewards of life at Creighton. Students examine such topics as Creighton’s Jesuit heritage and values, academic integrity, and the core curriculum. Reading, writing and class discussion entertain issues of self-exploration and self-discovery.

Tips & Suggestions for Students and Families

Welcome to the Creighton Career Center!

This office has much to offer you and your student, including:

• Advisors who listen to your questions and concerns. Our staff has over 30 years of experience helping students of all ages with their academic and career journeys.

• Interest Surveys which help assess personal skills/interests and identify related occupations.

• Brochures describing careers, skills, interests, majors, courses required and more!

• Information that describes and helps you visualize the various companies and occupations.

• Internet navigation to give you the most up-to-date graduate/professional school and career resources.

Young people today face the challenge of entering a very difficult, constantly changing working environment. How can you help them with their decisions?

• Identify skills. What are they good at? What do they excel in?

• Explore goals and interests. What would they like to do? What are their interests? Leisure-time activities/hobbies may lead to some exciting career possibilities!

• Think long-term. What quality experience (internships, part-time jobs) would enhance a resume and give valuable insight and experience?

Choosing the right career can be a confusing process. With an unlimited array of possibilities, students have difficulty deciding what is best suited for them. Questions to consider range from “Has my interest in this area decreased, and should I change my direction?” to “I like so many areas. It’s hard to decide!” Change is the only constant. Be prepared for many questions! Be involved in your student’s college life. At times, communication is difficult, but if you can be available and encouraging, your student can make informed career decisions.

Occasionally, students experience confusion to a degree requiring additional assistance. You might observe that:

• Student seems anxious, overworked or over-extended by work or courses.

• Student loses sight of goals, seems “paralyzed”, not able to make decisions.

• Student seems preoccupied, defensive or agitated for no apparent reason.

With any of these situations, you may suggest personal counseling, academic advising, or career counseling for assistance.

Bonus Dining Dollars
Another feature that gives you flexibility to your plan is your bonus dining dollars. Bonus dining dollars can be used any time at any of our retail locations or to treat a guest to join you in a dining hall for a meal. Like JayBuck$, they are stored on your ID card. All University Dining Services registers are programmed to always choose from your bonus dining dollar fund for as long as you hold a balance. Bonus dining dollars may not be spent at non-dining facilities and expire at the end of the semester.

Division of Information Technology (DoIT)

Students at Creighton University have access to a wealth of online resources. Registering for classes on the NEST and submitting a paper on BlueLine are just two examples of tools students have available. All students receive a NetID and should set up their password prior to arriving on campus. The NetID and password allow access to the Creighton systems every student needs. Keep your password secret and never include it in written communication or email.

Although the University does not currently have a formal laptop program, computers are critical components of campus life. Besides developing skills, having a computer is a significant daily convenience for both personal and academic pursuits. This is especially true toward the end of the semester when demands upon public computer labs are high. It is strongly recommended that you bring a computer with you. If that is not an option for you, there are computer labs in residence halls, libraries, and other buildings around campus.

Should you need to purchase a system before coming to Creighton, the University does have an agreement with both Apple and GovConnection for discounted purchases on Apple and Windows PCs. You can view your purchasing options at:

http://doit.creighton.edu/computing-printing/purchase-computer-students

Bringing a computer to Creighton
While Creighton University does not recommend one laptop over another, we do have some general guidelines of minimum specification that laptops coming to campus should meet.

Minimum Computing Standards:
Processor: Intel Core i3, i5, i7 or current AMD
Operating System: Microsoft Windows 7 or above, Macintosh Snow Leopard (10.6) or above
Memory: 3GB of RAM or more
Hard Drive: 160GB of space or more with an external backup drive of at least 500GB
Connectivity: Wireless 802.11 a/g/n
DVD-ROM

The Computing Standards listed are the MINIMUM standards.

General Expectations
It is expected that a student using computer technology is responsible for:

1. Not giving out his/her Blue password—especially in written form (e-mail)
2. Bringing system restore discs and media to repair systems
3. Meeting campus standards for connection to our network
4. Having licensed software and proof of license
5. Making regular backups of his/her own data
6. Keeping his/her computer up to date and secure
7. Being familiar with and adhering to posted computing policies: http://www.creighton.edu/doit/policies
Additional Resources
Microsoft Office and other software offerings are available for students to download at a greatly reduced price. For more information, please visit: https://www.creighton.edu/doit/software/personal/Microsoft/index.php

Wireless Networking:
Creighton University is listed as one of the top 50 wireless universities in the country by Intel. Wireless is generally available in public spaces throughout campus, all residence halls and many classrooms. Notebook computers must have an 802.11 a/g/n wireless card to access the wireless network. Please visit the DoIT website at http://doit.creighton.edu/ for additional information. On the site there are instructions enabling connection to Creighton’s wireless network. If you are unable to connect and meet the (above) required minimum criteria, contact our Student Service Desk to set up an appointment to resolve any connectivity issues. If it is a hardware-related problem, the owner is responsible for all repairs to his/her computer.

BluePrint:
BluePrint is Creighton’s Unified Student Print solution. There are many print options for students at Creighton. BluePrint offers a standardized end user experience at multiple locations across the Creighton campus. All you need is your Blue account and a positive Jaybuck$ balance to print, copy, or scan your documents. Find more information here: http://doit.creighton.edu/computing-printing-services/new-student-printers-locations

CU Alert:
CU Alert is a campus-wide emergency notification system which provides safety-related announcements about University schedules, e.g. “The University will be closing early due to inclement weather.” Registering for CU Alert is strongly recommended in order to receive emergency phone, voice or text notifications. Register online at www.creighton.edu/cualert.

Computer Service and Repair
It is recommended that students purchase extended warranty service with all computer purchases (either Apple or Windows PC). If accidental damage protection is offered, purchase of that option is strongly recommended.

The first place a student should check with any technical question is the Student Service Desk, DoIT4Students (doit4students@creighton.edu). We have full-time analysts to provide guidance on any technology issues that arise. Questions can be sent to the address above. Appointments can be scheduled by visiting the DoIT website at http://doit.creighton.edu/

The DoIT website is also another solid resource for common support issues.

Please note that DoIT does provide virus or malware cleaning and some repair services on personal property, but students are responsible for providing legal media should a reload of their system be required. Students are likewise responsible for keeping a back-up of their data. Creighton does NOT provide any back-up service at the present time.

The University is an Apple Authorized Service Provider and a Lenovo warranty center. The Student Service Desk will not perform hardware repair work on other brands as that may void warranty but will instead send you to the closest authorized service outlet.

At this time the University does not recommend one service provider over another, but has arranged a discount with ARN Networks, a local vendor: http://www.arnnetworks.com
Safety

Bike Safety

Here are suggestions for bike safety and theft prevention:

• Always secure your bike with a high quality lock. A steel alloy U-shaped lock with a flat key is recommended.
• Cable locks are easily defeated with pliers. Some universities have programs to cut cable locks with the same type of pliers that thieves use.
• Bikes that are left outside in the same area for long periods of time are stolen more often than bikes that are used daily.
• Even with a U-shaped steel alloy lock your bike can still be stolen. Take advantage of registration programs that will reimburse you for the value of your bike if it is stolen.
• When you purchase your bike record its serial number and take a picture so it can be identified.
• Some websites have a form to register your bike’s information and will give you a tag that is difficult to remove once applied to the surface of your bike (www.nationalbikeregistry.com).
• Secure your bike to an appropriate bike rack that is sturdy and reinforced. Locking a bike to a tree or street sign is not as secure, while locking your bike to a hand rail may impede pedestrians and riders.
• If you are unsure of bike rack locations or have would like to request a rack in a specific location, contact Public Safety at (402) 280-2104.
• Public Safety also has U-shaped locks and heavy chain locks available at cost.

Home Safety

If you are leaving your house or apartment for an extended period:

• Make sure windows and doors are secure.
• Keep the shades or curtains drawn so your space is not visible from the outside. Think about putting your lights on a timer so that people think you are at home.
• Have a neighbor or friend check on your residence to be sure everything is in order.
• Stop your mail for the week with the USPS or have a neighbor pick up your mail and/or newspapers.
• Do not leave a message on your house phone, voicemail, or social networking website that you will be gone. It advertises that your room or house is empty.
• If you leave your car, remove all valuables and lock it.
• Consider parking your car in a campus garage.

If your roommates are leaving and you will be home alone:

• Take the usual precautions in your residence (lock doors and windows, keep garage doors closed, turn on porch lights, etc.).
• Turn lights on in in your house or room at night so that people can see someone is home.
• Check in with family and friends.
• Be sure to use a window or peephole to verify who is at your door before opening it.
• Be aware of your surroundings. Report suspicious activity to the Omaha Police Department if the behavior is off campus, and Public safety if the suspicious activity is on campus.

Vehicle Safety

• Have your keys in hand and ready to unlock the vehicle. Look around the vehicle as you approach it. Unlock the door, check the back seat and floor area. Lock the doors before starting the car or fastening your seatbelt.
• When you leave your vehicle at a service station, leave only the car keys. Don’t leave your house key or other keys on the key ring.
• Back into a well-lit parking space. Avoid parking next to vans. Walk with the flow of traffic and stay in the center of the access way when walking in parking lots.

Car Trouble Safety

• Turn on hazard lights or flashers
• Put the hood up to alert police and passersby that you need assistance.
• Stay with your vehicle and wait for police or service station.
• Place help signs in rear window, but do not completely block vision.
• Carry a cell phone for emergencies.
• Be aware of vehicles following you. Do not drive to your home or campus. Drive to Public Safety or the nearest police or fire station. Stay in familiar, populated areas. If there are no other options, find a 24-hour shopping store.

Awareness

What is Operation ID?

Operation ID is a tool that you can use to keep a record of your personal items. Operation ID is part of a larger national program that recognizes that in the event that something of value is taken from you, the chance that the item is recovered is greatly increased if you have the model and serial numbers of the items.

This online registry can also help be of assistance with insurance claims. Operation ID is a tool that makes it easier for you to be responsible for the safety of yourself and your property.

Recognizing Suspicious Activity

Involving People

• Someone going door-to-door in a residential area. If, after a few houses are visited, one or more of the subjects goes into a back or side yard. It is more suspicious if another remains in the front of the house when this occurs.

• Someone waiting in front of a house or business when the owners are absent, or if it is a business and the establishment is closed.

• Someone forcing entrance to or tampering with a residence, business, vehicle, etc.

• A non-resident going into a back or side yard.

• A person running, especially if something of value is being carried.

Involving Property

• Property carried by persons on foot. This is especially questionable if the person is running, and may be significant if the property is not wrapped as if it was just purchased.

• Property being removed from or being placed into vehicles or buildings if it is being removed from closed residences whose owners are known to be absent.

• Someone offers to sell you something for significantly less than the market value.

Involving Vehicles

• Slow moving vehicles, vehicles without lights, and vehicles that have a pattern of motion.

• Vehicles being loaded with valuables are suspicious if parked in front of a closed business or unattended residence.

• Notice abandoned vehicles and any activity around them.

• Persons attempting to forcibly enter a locked vehicle, especially at night or in a parking lot.

• Persons detaching mechanical parts or accessories from a vehicle especially at night or in a parking lot.

• Apparent business transactions conducted from a vehicle especially if around schools or parks, and if juveniles are involved.

• Persons being forced into vehicles, especially if they are juveniles or females.

• Objects thrown from a vehicle, especially while traveling at a high speed.

Fellowship

A commitment to working together as a community for the betterment of all members.

This is the mission statement of Creighton University’s Public Safety Department. It displays the commitment to fellowship in every encounter that Cura Personalis calls for. Please help the community by participating in this mission.

Mission Statement

The purpose of the Department of Public Safety at Creighton University is to work in partnership with students, faculty, and staff to help and protect people, security property, solve problems, and enhance the quality of campus life.

We will achieve these goals by fostering a spirit of cooperation, promoting education and awareness, and dedicating ourselves to exceptional customer service.

In executing this mission we will respect the value of all people we come in contact with and understand our role in support of the University’s goals and objectives.
Education

General Safety Tips

• Plan your route and avoid shortcuts through vacant lots, alleys, or parks.
• Walk in well-lit areas and do not walk alone.
• Don’t go to isolated areas such as laundry rooms and basements alone.
• Have your key ready before you approach your vehicle or home.
• Look inside your car before you get in. Get into your vehicle quickly and lock the door first – even before you put your seat belt on.
• Be aware of your surroundings and people around you.
• If you think you are being followed, do not go home. Change directions and look for open stores, restaurants or a police or fire station.
• If you return home and find that your doors or windows have been tampered with, do not go inside – go to a neighbor’s or friend’s house and call the police.
• Never allow strangers to use your telephone. Offer to make the call instead while they wait outside. Keep your door locked while making the call.

Protect Yourself and Your Friends

• Always go out in a group and never go home with someone you don’t know or trust
• Keep an eye on your drink when you’re out. Never leave your drink unattended
• Look out for your friends and make sure that the group stays together while out socializing. Never let a friend wander off alone.
• Trust your instincts, if a situation doesn’t feel right to you, leave the situation
• Make sure you have money for cab fare in case you need a ride home
• Program important safety numbers into your phone
• Never get into a car with a driver who has been consuming alcohol

What to do if You are Attacked

• Try to escape. Scream, yell, fight, kick and run. Scream the word “fire” as it has been shown to grab the attention of onlookers more quickly.
• Talk to stall for time and assess the situation.
• If your attacker has a weapon, do whatever it takes to stay alive.
• If your attacker tries to move you to another location, do whatever it takes to prevent going.
• If you are assaulted preserving all physical evidence will help law enforcement authorities catch the perpetrator. Do not shower, bathe, change clothes or throw anything you were wearing away.
• Report rape or sexual assault immediately to Public Safety at 280-2911 or to Omaha Police Department at 911. Trained officers will respond and assist you immediately.

Sexual Assault

The university defines sexual misconduct to include any unwanted kissing, any unwanted touching of an intimate part of another person, such as a sexual organ, breast, or buttocks as well as forced or non-consenting sexual intercourse.

Effective consent is informed, freely and actively given, and consists of mutually understandable words or actions indicating a willingness to engage in mutually agreed-upon sexual activity.

If you have been sexually assaulted, you have options.

Don’t just leave your room to enjoy yourself, leave your room to study. You won’t get anything done when your friends and your TV are readily available. Find a study spot that works for you, because I almost guarantee it’s not your room. If you don’t want to study alone, bring a buddy! But seriously, there’s too many distractions in your dorm…unless you have amazing focus.

The biggest piece of advice I would give is to get involved and get involved right away! This is the perfect way to make new friends and immerse yourself in the Creighton culture from the minute you step foot on campus. Do what you love and love what you do. Do not feel pressured to join an organization, instead find the ones that you love and stick to them!

Explore your passions! Whether this be in student organizations or within the classes you’re taking, college is a great time to try new things and find out what you love!

Immerse yourself as much as a duo can with the Creighton culture. These will be the best four years of your life so make the most of them! Go out and meet people be the person you want to be. Leave any high school stigma behind and start fresh with college. Get involved! Find your passion and GO JAYS!

Do not sign up for everything at the involvement fair, plan ahead a semester at a time.

College is the short time in your life where you are surrounded by people who are all in the exact same phase of their lives. You all are at the same college, roughly the same age, roughly the same decisions having to be made, so this is the best opportunity for you to break out and try things you might not have tried otherwise…no one will judge you for it. Do what YOU want to do and things will work out for the best…as long as you’re still being at least somewhat responsible…

I would suggest that students go to all of the new student orientation stuff at the beginning of the year including Welcome Week and all the fairs. It will help set them up for success and help them adjust to college (studying habits, involvement, etc.) as well as inform them of all the resources available. Also as far as involvement I would suggest they try a bunch of new things that they didn’t do in high school and really branch out to find new things they are passionate about!

My advice is to get involved on campus! You will make so many more friends if you get involved, and it will make your time at Creighton so much better! You only have 4 years here so embrace this experience!

Meet as many people as possible!

Don’t be afraid to ask questions. Ask professors, ask your RAs, ask your classmates, ask upperclassmen. Everyone wants you to succeed and will help you out!

Don’t be afraid to branch out. You’re going to meet so many new people from so many different walks of life and you have a great opportunity to find yourself in multiple ways. Get involved, meet new people, and find yourself through newly discovered passions.

Go outside your comfort zone and join an activity that you normally wouldn’t do! And don’t wait around to see what your friends get involved with, start early!

Don’t be afraid to get involved and try something new. Go to the activities fair and sign up for every list that is even a little bit interesting, you can always request to be removed from the list.

Ashton, Kuchera

Be open to new experiences, go into every situation with an open mind as possible, work hard, have fun, and keep your door open. Also, if things are difficult and different, keep your head up and don’t be afraid to ask for help, things will get better.

Go out and talk to people, especially at the beginning of the fall. If you don’t find people you jive well with on your floor (though you probably will), then leave your floor and venture elsewhere. I guarantee you there is best-friend material in many of your fellow Creighton students, but you might have to be willing to look a bit! Overall, know that the vast majority of people here are friendly and would love to talk with you, and they won’t think you’re weird for starting conversations with them at all.
Lucy Markland

Have a positive attitude about everything! Be open minded and take in all the advice, silly games, and ice breakers. I know some things get repetitive and boring at Welcome Week and Summer Preview but in the long run it will all be super helpful!

Michaela Miller

You may feel out of your comfort zone, but don’t be afraid to show yourself and step out of that zone. College is about academics and your future...true, but it is more than that it teaches you lessons that know professor in a classroom can. So get out there and be ADVENTUROUS!

Caitlin Neubauer

Just to be yourself. Get involved right away. Be open to new activities, classes, and new people. Approach your professors the first day and go to their office hours.

Stefan Peterson

I think that every new student needs to search for their own place in college. Unfortunately, things to do and get involved with will not just appear in front of us. Every new student needs to seek out activities that they love and go for them. Join as many clubs and activities as you can so that you can find the one you truly love. By getting involved on campus new students will be able to call Creighton their home.

Emily Wilton

Step outside of your comfort zone and get involved with everything. You will meet a lot of new people while having fun. Say hi to everyone!

Michael Pfeifer

Be fearless! Don’t be afraid to reach out and make new friends, talk to professors, or try to become involved in some organizations. Creighton is an incredibly supportive place where taking risks is highly encouraged.

Madison Pottebaum

Share your smile with everyone. Never be afraid to say hello just because you don’t know someone. Reach out to everyone you can, because you never know who could be your next best friend!

Alex Zuniga

Don’t think you are going to be the same person you were in high school. It’s important to maintain your values, but it’s also a great chance to try new things.

Jen Novotny

New students should always keep an open mind. Don’t be afraid to join a new club, take a random class, or talk to a complete stranger. You never know where you might meet a classmate that will become your best friend or take a professor who can leave a lifelong impact on you.

Arthur Segismundo

Come to Creighton with an open mind. The entire college experience is all about discovery of self and what role you play on a local, community, state, nation, and global level. That can be a little daunting once you hit that realization that Creighton may be the last stop between education and real world application. I’d say to develop your interests into passions during your collegiate career.

Jill Sobczyk

Don’t be shy! It is completely acceptable to introduce yourself to someone in a classroom, on the mall, or in the hallway. Your next best friend might be the person you have ridden the elevator with 5 times in the first two days but haven’t had the courage to introduce yourself to. Just smile and say hello!

Emily Wilton

Your first semester is very overwhelming. You need to learn how to manage your time wisely and efficiently. Don’t overcommit to organizations and activities because they sound fun and inviting. You need to figure out a schedule that works for you, one where you have plenty of time to eat, sleep, and study. After you find your niche add any extracurricular activities that seem appropriate and work within your schedule.

Anthony Robinson
