Electives Online	Term 1: April 29 through June 16, 2013
NDR 737 Online Dispute Resolution (2 credits) Instructor: Daniel Rainey	This course examines what has been described as "the hottest area" in conflict resolution. It addresses the emerging practice of conflict resolution in cyberspace and provides hands-on training in the use of emerging technologies to supplement traditional dispute resolution approaches and the use of Internet media to handle Internet-based disputes. No technology background is required.	Online only
Culture, Gender, and Power Differences in Conflict (NDR 767) (2 credits) Instructor: Yanira Alemán	This course takes an interdisciplinary look at issues related to the role of culture, gender, and other factors in conflict analysis and resolution. Students will receive an overview of relevant theories and research from social psychology, anthropology, sociology, and other disciplines. Topics such as the meaning of culture and conflict from a cultural perspective, cross-cultural communication, stereotypes, and differences in attitudes toward racism, sexism, and ethnicity will be discussed.	Online only

Electives Online (cont'd)	Term 1: April 29 through June 16, 2013
Organizational Collaborative Practice and Conflict Resolution (NDR 797) (3) Instructor: John Ford	In today's competitive environment, organizations increasingly must cope with complexities, uncertainties, and conflict. The ability to build collaborative teams and to manage and learn from conflict effectively is critical. Students will learn techniques and approaches for organizational team building, conflict management, and process facilitation and consulting.	Online only
Collaboration and Conflict Resolution in Health Care (NDR 771) (3) Instructor: Laurie Miller-Patterson	Conflicts in health care can involve poor clinical outcomes that may result in lawsuits, licensure disputes, credentialing and employment claims, and a lack of trust in the system as a whole. There is a growing need for new approaches that address system complexity, consumer needs, clinician autonomy, and quality of care. With a focus on practical application of process tools and systems design strategies, students will learn effective techniques that can be integrated into clinical settings and for managing legal and ethical issues that arise.	Online only
International Negotiation and Conflict Resolution (NDR 773) (3) Instructor: Janice McRae	International conflicts can involve states, corporations, peoples, and political factions. With applications from a variety of disciplinary perspectives, including international law, business, anthropology, and political science, students will learn approaches to conflict in the context of globalization with a focus on the implications of our growing interconnectedness as both a source and solution for disputes.	Online only

Electives Online	Term 2: July 1 through August 18
Systems and Consulting for Conflict Specialists (NDR 757) (2 credits) Instructor: Bryan Hanson	This course examines how an understanding of systems can contribute to the effective management of conflict. It also focuses on the ways that stakeholders can go beyond specific disputes to take a broader look at the full range of organizational conflicts to determine how best to prevent or address the types of an organization conflicts experiences over time. There is particular emphasis on different organizational contexts (e.g., private sector versus public sector, unionized versus non-unionized, as well as institutions such as universities and hospitals) and the role conflict specialists can play as consultants to organizations.	Online only
NDR 777 Conflict Specialist Ally Roles: Advocate, Organizer, Strategist, Coach (2 credits)	This course examines the range of roles for conflict specialists, with a focus on the application of conflict and communication principles. Common skills as well as specific tasks and techniques involved in each particular ally role will be discussed.	Online only
