

Dr. Julie Soukup, Director of the Center for Undergraduate Research and Scholarship, along with Dr. Gail Jensen, Dean of the College of Professional Studies and Graduate School, are pleased to announce the recipients of the 2018 Summer Faculty Research Fellowships:

Dr. Margaret Doig, Mathematics
"The Combinatorics of Grid Floer Homology"

Dr. Kevin Estep, Cultural and Social Studies
"Long-Term Impact of Participation in Justice-Oriented Study Abroad"

Dr. Jack Gabel, Physics
"Testing Models of Black Hole Accretion and Outflows in Quasars with Optical Spectra from the Sloan Digital Sky Survey"

Dr. David McPherson, Philosophy
"The Meaning-Seeking Animal: A Re-Enchanted Aristotelian Perspective"

Amy Nelson, MFA, Fine & Performing Arts
"Artist as Activist: Service"

Dr. Annemarie Shibata, Biology
"Identification of microglial pro-inflammatory long non-coding RNA as potential therapeutic targets in neuroinflammatory diseases"

Dr. Ogechukwu Ezekwem Williams, History
"Body Politics: Power, Pluralism, and Childbirth in Nigeria"

Dr. Jonathan Wrubel, Physics
"Entanglement-enhanced interferometry using magnetic states of a potassium-41 Bose-Einstein condensate"