

Jackie Lawrence comments:

Danielle is one of the most dependable and reliable young women I have ever met. Her work ethic is second to none. She juggles this job with a busy course schedule, extra-curricular activities (including Greek Life), and other part-time jobs, yet she always prioritized her schedule and work with us.

She is a perfectionist and has the ability to think outside the box. She produces an end product that is accurate, detailed, complete, and free of errors. For instance, one of her duties includes verifying the course information in the NEXT each semester prior to registration. This information must be perfect and 100% accurate, and Danielle has an eye for detail when working on this project. She also is responsible for creating/updating the POTD student composite.

Danielle is an independent, self-motivated worker, often tucked away alone in an office working on her projects. She operates off a list of tasks we've provided, and completes each task with great detail.

Sometimes I feel as if we have "thrown her to the wolves," as we're frantically emailing her tasks after task after task, but she continues to take on the challenges with a smile on her face and a positive and upbeat attitude.
