1. Harper Center (Heider College of Business)

The Harper Center is home to the Heider College of Business. It also includes the iJay (an Apple authorized student-run Apple store), and the Heider Securities and Investments Analysis Center, showcasing 11

Bloomberg Terminals where more than $6 million of the university's endowment is invested by students. Dining options in the Harper Center include the Brew Jay and Harper Dining Hall. The Harper Center is also home to offices such as: The Schlegel Center for Service and Justice (SCSJ), Student Health and Counseling, Undergraduate Admissions, The John P. Fahey Career Center, Financial Aid, Campus Bookstore, Creighton Intercultural Center, and Card Services.

2. Ahmanson School of Law

Housed in Creighton's School of Law are the Klutznick Law Library/McGrath North Legal Research Center and the Milton R. Abrahams Legal Clinic. There are over 100 full time students and we have a 72% Bar passage rate. Undergraduate students are allowed to use this library during the week but be warned, it is very quiet!

3. Softball complex/Baseball practice complex

The women's softball team, men's baseball team, and most outdoor intramural sports use these facilities. There is a field house next to the complex which contains batting cages and locker rooms for the teams. The baseball team plays home games at the nearby TD Ameritrade Park Omaha. The stadium is located 3 blocks east of campus and features seating for 24,000 fans. This ballpark is home to the College World Series every Summer!

4. McGloin Hall

McGloin is a five-story, co-ed, suite style residence hall for sophomore students. Each four-person suite features a bathroom, living room, walk-in closet, refrigerator and microwave. It is also home to the Java Jay, a restaurant-style dining option with burgers, sandwiches, salads, and more. Creighton students especially enjoy the late night cookies and the snacks served here!

5. Lied Education Center for the Arts

The Lied Center is home to the department of Fine and Performing Arts. The main level houses an auditorium designed in a pentagon to hold 350 people on the main floor and another 50 in the balcony. There is a dance studio, choral and instrumental areas on the main floor as well. The upper level includes visual art art resources and classrooms while the lower level provides us with photography classrooms and a darkroom. You can purchase tickets to all of the student productions through the Box Office, all events are either free or discounted for Creighton Students.

6. Creighton Hall

Originally the home of Creighton College (now Creighton Preparatory School for young men), this granite structure was the first building on campus. Now, a number of our forty Jesuits on campus live in the main residence inside Creighton Hall. The building is also home to many campus departments and administrative offices such as the English department, Division of Student Life, Business Office, Global Engagement Office, and the President's office. Creighton Hall also houses the "Golden Elevator", the oldest working elevator west of the Missouri River.

7. St. John's Catholic Church

Named for Creighton's patron saint, masses and other religious services are held here in this community parish. The church was finished in 1887 and dedicated in 1888. Mass is held each day of the week and at a variety of times on Sundays. During the school year, St. John's holds 8:30 pm and 10:30 pm masses that are geared towards students. Feel free to step inside and experience the beautiful church that is a Creighton landmark. The fountain outside the main doors symbolizes the Holy Spirit and its representation by the eternal flame.

8. Ignatius House and Jesuit Gardens

The Jesuit Gardens are an area of peace and rest for Jesuits, students, and faculty alike. During the warmer months of the year, students will often be found studying and resting in the gardens. Adjacent to the Jesuit Gardens, the Ignatius House is a living quarters for many of the resident Jesuit priests and brothers. The house has visitor rooms and meeting rooms enabling the Jesuits to host guest speakers and groups of faculty and students. An observatory built in 1885 and once used for research and student instruction is also found in the gardens.

9. Reinert Alumni Memorial Library

Reinert is the largest of three libraries on campus and has over 736,000 volumes, databases, and other resources all available to students. The lower level of the building houses the Department of Information Technology (DoIT) and the Creighton EDGE program. The library has three floors and includes computers, printers, and the Research Center. This is a great place to study and find information and other resources for your classes.

Creighton EDGE - This is Creighton's academic concierge service. It is a one stop shop for all academia related items. The EDGE provides tutoring, academic coaching, pre-professional advising and much more. Feel free to stop in, the EDGE loves to chat with students and tell them about all of their programs!

10. Eppley Building

Eppley is home to the College of Arts and Sciences, the largest college within the university. CCAS offers more than 40 majors in a wide variety of fields. The Eppley Building is home to the Education and Political Science departments in addition to the Energy Technology Program. Creighton houses Nebraska's largest solar array to power various buildings on campus and act as an outdoor classroom.

11. Hixson-Lied Science Building

This integrated learning complex includes multi-purpose classrooms, lecture halls, computer labs, high-tech teaching and research laboratories, shared core facilities for research equipment and instrumentation, as well as offices and student common spaces. Hixson-Lied is home to the Chemistry, Biology, Physics, Psychology and Mathematics departments.

12. Criss Health Sciences Building

Home to the Schools of Medicine, Nursing, and Pharmacy and Health Professions, Creighton is the only private university between the Mississippi River and West Coast offering a full complement of the Health Sciences. Creighton University Medical Center (previously on the far west end of campus across the highway) has been relocated, expanded and updated. Medical school operations are moving to a new state-of-the-art facility located at 24th and Cumming St in addition to the newly renovated Bergan Mercy Medical Center. The old building will be transformed into a new residential development geared towards students.

13. Rigge Science Building

Positioned between Hixson-Lied and the Criss buildings, it is home to many of the labs for the departments of Biology, Physics, and Chemistry. Many faculty research labs with undergraduate involvement are also located here.

14. Dowling Humanities Center

The Dowling Humanities building houses the departments of Philosophy, Theology, Classical and Near Eastern Civilizations, and History.

15. Hitchcock Communication Arts Building

Hitchcock was once home to the Law School and named in honor of Gilbert Hitchcock, founder of the Omaha World which later combined with the Omaha Herald to become the Omaha World Herald. The Journalism, Media, and Computing Department is housed in Hitchcock along with the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures. The College of Arts and Sciences Honors Program is also located here. The Creightonian, a student-run weekly student newspaper, is run and published from this building.

16. Kiewit Hall

This is a nine-story, co-ed residence hall for freshmen students. It is community style living, with shared bathrooms and living spaces. Kiewit is connected to Becker Dining Hall and is home to the Freshmen Leadership Program, a living-learning community. This is the largest residence hall on campus and includes a computer lab, mailroom, and laundry room.

17. VJ and Angela Skutt Student Center

The Skutt Student Center is known as the “Living Room of Creighton University”. It features a fireplace, TV lounges, meeting rooms, Starbucks, Jack and Ed’s Convenience Store, and Wareham Court (which offers a wide variety of dining options from Chinese to sub sandwiches). It houses the Creighton Federal Credit Union and is also home to the Student Leadership and Involvement Center (SLIC) and the Student Center Information Desk.

18. Kiewit Physical Fitness Center

The KFC is utilized by students, faculty, and staff and features aerobic fitness rooms, a cardiovascular training and weightlifting area, handball/ racquetball courts, five multi-purpose courts, and an indoor track. A variety of group fitness classes are held here throughout each semester and are available to students via a $25 semester pass. It houses the offices for the Campus Recreation staff and the Department of Exercise Science. The KFC is also home to many indoor intramural sports and access to the facilities is free to students faculty and staff.

19. Swanson Hall

Swanson is a nine-floor, co-ed, suite-style residence hall for sophomore and freshmen students. Each four-person suite features a private bathroom and walk-in closets. The hall is home to Inter-

Residence Hall Government (IRHG), Campus Ministry, Residential Life and Housing and the Freshman Honors’ Program, a living-learning community based on academics.

20. Brandeis Dining Hall

Brandeis is named in honor of Mary Brandeis, wife of the owner of the old Brandeis Department Store in downtown Omaha. It houses the main dining facility for all students on campus. It is open for breakfast, lunch, and dinner on weekdays and brunch and dinner on the weekends. Brandeis Hall is also home to the Office of the Registrar and the Violence Intervention and Prevention Center.

21. Deglman Hall

Deglman is a traditional-style residence hall with two students per room and a shared community lounge with a bathroom in the middle of each floor. It has 5 floors and hosts around 160 freshman students. The hall hosts a large basement that serves as the hangout space for its residents with a big screen television, a newly updated kitchen, a computer lab with printer access, and a laundry room.
