Policy: Fellow Supervision		Page 1 of 2

PURPOSE

The GMEC must monitor programs' supervision of residents and fellows and ensure that supervision is consistent with:

- a. Provision of safe and effective patient care;
- b. Educational needs of residents;
- c. Progressive responsibility appropriate to residents' level of education, competence, and experience; and,
- d. Other applicable Common and specialty/subspecialty-specific Program requirement

SCOPE

This policy applies to all Creighton University Interventional Cardiology fellows.

POLICY

1. Procedural Expectations:

- a. Supervising Physician: The staff physician is responsible for the supervision of all procedures performed in the individual cardiology laboratories. At no time does the fellow ever perform procedures without direct supervision. The staff physician will review the rotation expectations at the beginning of the rotation. The attending physician will provide verbal feedback and a written evaluation at the end of each procedure. The attending physician will conduct daily management rounds which will include brief focused discussion. The staff physician will be readily available and easily contacted by the fellow to discuss patient care or other issues related to the rotation. The staff physician will monitor the fellow's performance of procedures and review the fellow's interpretation of all diagnostic tests. The staff physician will provide concise focused teaching sessions during weekly conferences or during performance and interpretation of laboratory studies. The staff physician and the fellow will discuss testing results with the patient and the patient's family and provide appropriate documentation.
- b. Interventional Cardiology Fellow: The fellow is responsible for the daily management of all patients scheduled to undergo procedures. The fellow will complete preoperative assessment, and post-operative management of patients scheduled for procedures. The fellow will assist the general cardiology fellow in performing necessary procedures. The fellow will either provide adequate documentation of patient care or ensure that cardiology notes are complete and accurate. No procedures may be performed without direct faculty supervision.
