

*I*NDUCTION PROGRAM
Alpha Sigma Nu
Creighton University Chapter

Creighton University

Omaha, Nebraska

February 6, 2016

PROGRAM

Processional

Welcome and Remarks

Joseph X. Tanaka

President, ASN Student Chapter, Creighton University

Induction Prayer

Selina A. Marshall

Vice President, ASN Student Chapter, Creighton University

Remarks on Behalf of the Alpha Sigma Nu Omaha Alumni Club

Thomas Kiefer, BA'73, DDS'77

President, ASN Omaha Alumni Club

Alpha Sigma Nu Standards

Scholarship

Daniel D. Poston

Vice President, ASN Student Chapter, Creighton University

Loyalty

Samantha O. Stanley

Vice President, ASN Student Chapter, Creighton University

Service

Jennifer A. Vestle

Vice President, ASN Student Chapter, Creighton University

Moderator Remarks

Thomas J. Purcell III, Ph.D., CPA, BSBA'72, JD'77

Student Chapter Moderator

Alpha Sigma Nu Pledge

Acceptance of Candidates

Daniel S. Hendrickson, S.J., Ph.D.
President, Creighton University

Presentation of Keys and Certificates

Conferral of Honorary Memberships

Remarks on Behalf of the Administration

Daniel S. Hendrickson, S.J., Ph.D.
President, Creighton University

Remarks on Behalf of the Student Inductees

Prem Vichienwanitchkul
Senior, College of Arts and Sciences

Invitation to Reception

Joseph X. Tanaka

Music provided by the Creighton University Studio Strings
chamber group, led by Amanda Wilton, DMA, Director

Catholic Mass

Rev. Phillip R. Amidon, S.J., Presider
with special participation by the 2015 Inductees
5 p.m. | St. John's Church

College of Arts and Sciences

Matthew Abrahms: Matthew is a senior biochemistry major. He is an executive for the Creighton Habitat for Humanity Chapter and also a volunteer at Methodist Hospital in the Hospital Elder Life Program. Matt is involved in undergraduate research for the Department of Chemistry and is focused on extracting and quantifying the concentration of nicotine in avian embryos. Matt was a sacristan at St. John's for two and a half years. After graduation, he plans to attend medical school.

Abigail Bodeau: Abigail is a junior and is involved in various liturgical ministries at St. John's Parish. In addition, she is an active member of the Catholic Student Organization. She spent two months working with the Little Sisters of the Poor last summer and recently traveled to Philadelphia with Campus Ministry during Pope Francis' U.S. visit.

Thomas Boffeli: Tom is a junior studying psychology and justice and society. He is a member of the Cortina Community and a Eucharistic Minister at St. John's Candlelight Mass. A brother in the fraternity of Phi Delta Theta and a decurion in the Ratio Studiorum Program, he has participated in the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice fall and spring break service and justice trips. Tom has also led the Freshman Retreat and Encounter with Christ Retreat through Campus Ministry.

Brendan Cokingtin: Brendan is a senior chemistry major and will be attending medical school in fall 2016. He has been involved as a member in Greek life and Inter-Residence Hall Government, and as an employee in the Center for Academic Success during his years at Creighton. He has also served as a volunteer both locally in the Omaha community and abroad through Creighton's faculty-led study abroad program.

Kevin Cokingtin: Kevin is a senior planning to further his education at medical school in fall 2016. While at Creighton, he has continued to stay busy by being a teaching assistant in the Department of Chemistry; performing research; and being an active member of his fraternity, Beta Theta Pi. He has also volunteered at various sites in the Omaha community and studied abroad in Lima, Peru.

Kelsey Cordero: Kelsey is a senior and plans to get a job teaching elementary school following graduation. Kelsey enjoys her time with children and has spent time within the local community volunteering as a tutor, Girl Scout troop leader, and caretaker during her time at Creighton. She has also been involved with Residence Life for three years, serving as a resident advisor for sophomore students for two of those years. Kelsey is an active leader in the Greek community and served on her sorority's executive board for two years.

Sarah Duffy: Sarah is a junior history and secondary education major who will graduate in May 2017. Throughout her time the University, she has been involved in the Cortina Community and Campus Ministry. She also participated in a service and justice trip through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice and was a beadle for the Ratio Studiorum Program. Currently, she serves as the Mission and Ministry Community Advisor in Swanson Hall and is on a leadership team in Campus Ministry.

Caitlyn Ewers: Caitlyn is a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences with plans to attend graduate school in fall 2016. Within the last four years, Caity has gotten involved with Campus Ministry as a liturgical minister and retreat coordinator. She currently holds executive positions within the Honors Program Student Advisory Board and Eta Sigma Phi. In addition, she is a member of Greek life and a passionate volunteer within the greater Omaha community.

Alyson Forbes: Aly is a junior planning to attend occupational therapy school upon graduation. She has been involved in many activities on campus, including Pep Band, Spanish Club, and the Cortina Community. She is now part of the leadership team for Cortina and serves as the assistant resident director of Deglman Hall. She spent the spring semester of 2015 studying abroad in the Dominican Republic as a member of Comunidad 19 of Creighton's Encuentro Dominicano program.

Kathryn Forbes: Kathryn is a senior and is hoping to attend medical school in fall 2016. She has been involved in a variety of activities during her years here at Creighton, including attending a medical mission trip to Haiti and developing a food education program for the elderly with her community partner in Omaha. Kathryn is an active member of Greek life and the Creighton Pre-Medical Society, as well as an avid volunteer throughout the Omaha area.

Shannon Fuller: Shannon is a junior and hopes to pursue a master's degree in medieval literature or critical theory after graduation. She has participated in two service and justice trips through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, leading one of the trips to her home city of Milwaukee and another this spring. As a member of the Cortina Community, she participates in weekly service in Omaha. Shannon also has participated in the Midwestern Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender Ally College Conference, and is a proud active member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Shannon spent four months studying in Limerick, Ireland, where she attended the first annual Conference of the International Yeats Society.

Amanda Groch: Amanda is a senior exercise science major and dance minor who will graduate in May 2016 to pursue a degree in physical therapy. In her time at Creighton University, she has been involved with the Freshmen Leadership Program, Greek life, Creighton Dance Company, Order of Omega, Residence Life, and a service trip through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice. Amanda has been very passionate about volunteering with children with special needs, and she has served as a therapy intern at Children's Respite Care Center and teaches a weekly dance class for children with special needs through the nonprofit organizations Dancing Beyond Limits and Bella Dance & Yoga.

Sarah Gwazdacz: Sarah is a junior biochemistry major and plans to apply for medical school in the upcoming year. She has been involved in a variety of activities at Creighton including community volunteering at a local Omaha school with her sorority and with Best Buddies of America. In addition to being involved within her sorority, she serves on the executive board of the Panhellenic Council as vice president of public relations. Sarah has also appeared in Creighton University's production of The Nutcracker.

Michael Heffernan: Michael is currently a junior from Sioux City, Iowa, majoring in biology and minoring in English. He works at Methodist Hospital as a phlebotomist and also volunteers there with the Hospital Life Elder Program. He is a member of the Honors Program and serves as a class representative on the Honors Board, and was on the 2015 Creighton Business Symposium Planning Team. Michael is also actively involved in Welcome Week, Greek life, and intramural sports.

Kristin Inman: Kristin is a junior from Pierre, S.D., where she grew up on a farm. She is majoring in theology with a minor in biology, and plans to attend medical school post-graduation. On campus, Kristin is a resident advisor, a College of Arts and Sciences Deans Fellow, and the theology chair of the Cortina Community executive team. She is an active volunteer in the Omaha community, recently serving at Healing Gift Clinic, the Sienna/Francis Homeless Shelter, and the MICAH house. She went on a medical mission trip to the Dominican Republic in the summer of 2015 with United Methodist Volunteers in Mission and is going again in the summer of 2016.

Madeline Ivy: Madeline is a junior exercise science major. She is part of the Creighton Cross Country team and attended a spring service and justice trip to the Siena/Francis Homeless Shelter through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice. Because she loved her trip so much, she has continued to serve the community there whenever the opportunity arises. She is also involved in Habitat for Humanity, is a volunteer for the Omaha Marathon, and helps out at Lutheran Family Services.

Clara Johnson: Clara is a junior studying theology and secondary education. She was a member of the Cortina Community her freshman and sophomore years and gained so much from the experience that she took on a greater role her junior year, serving as a part of the leadership team. In addition to her duties as an executive, she also serves as a resident advisor for Deglman Hall. Clara studied abroad in the Dominican Republic her sophomore year and is a part of Encuentro Dominicano Comunidad 18.

Sarah Kottenstette: Sarah is a junior from Burlington, Iowa. She is an exercise science major with a minor in Spanish. Sarah has been on two service trips through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice and is coordinating her third trip this spring. Sarah is also actively involved with the Deans Fellows Program of the College of Arts and Sciences, Greek life, and the Pre-Medical Society. She was an executive for Welcome Week 2015 and is currently preparing for Welcome Week 2016 as a coordinator.

Molly Krause: Molly is a senior and will study nutrition and dietetics after graduation. She is a member of Creighton's service fraternity Alpha Phi Omega and the Exercise Science Majors Club. Molly also assists with research in sports nutrition and volunteers for several wellness organizations in the Omaha community.

Erin Kurvers: Erin is a senior international relations major. She has been involved in a variety of activities at Creighton including studying abroad in the Dominican Republic, working at the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, and participating in three service trips, leading two of them. She also serves as co-president of the student organization El Legado de Compassion and as a volunteer in the Omaha community.

Krysta Larson: Krysta is a junior majoring in English and journalism. She is a member of the Honors Program, the National Society of Collegiate Scholars, and the English honors society, Sigma Tau Delta. Krysta has held leadership positions with The Creightonian and Colleges Against Cancer, and is highly involved as a student ambassador for the Center for Undergraduate Research and Scholarship. She traveled to Wheeling, W. V. for a fall service trip and has been involved in the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice's Ignatian Advocacy group for Sustainability.

Emily Mauser: Emily is a senior and will attend physical therapy school in fall 2016. She has participated in Creighton athletics all four years at Creighton, serving in various roles such as a cross-country athlete, cross-country team captain, and member of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. She is also an active volunteer in the Omaha community, jumping on opportunities to serve others whenever possible.

Henry Mishek: As a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences, Henry has a passion for community service and a drive for academics. He has been on three service and justice trips through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice (SCSJ) and led two of them. Most recently he was given a position as part of the core team for the SCSJ service trips program. He also participates in undergraduate research in the Department of Biology and works as a phlebotomist part-time in addition to being a devoted member of his fraternity.

Kevin Mugno: Kevin is a junior, majoring in exercise science and plans on attending physician assistant school after graduation. He currently involves himself all around Creighton, including his work on executive team of the student organization MEDLIFE, participating in the Institute for Latin American Concern's Water Quality Program in the Dominican Republic, being an active member in Greek life, and participating in research in both the chemistry and exercise science departments.

Madison Pottebaum: Madison is a junior journalism major and English minor with plans to study law after graduation. She has been an active volunteer in various journalism department events, served as a reporter and assistant social media editor for The Creightonian, and hopes to travel with the Backpack Journalism Program next summer. She plans to attend a fall break service and justice trip through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice in the fall of 2016. She also volunteers weekly as a mentor at Completely Kids.

Lauran Renjard: Lauran is a junior in the College of Arts and Sciences. She was a member of the Cortina Community, in which she participated in several volunteering opportunities in the Omaha community. Additionally, she serves as a member of the Pre-Physician Assistant Club and volunteers at Completely Kids, where she assists teachers by taking care of children with special academic needs.

Emma Schaffer: Emma is a junior chemistry major who plans to attend medical school after graduating. Emma has participated in two Schlegel Center for Service and Justice fall and spring break service and justice trips and coordinated her third trip to Clinton, Iowa, this past fall. In addition, she volunteers as an undergraduate navigator for the Magis Clinic at the Siena/Francis Homeless Shelter in Omaha. Additionally, Emma is involved in undergraduate research in organic chemistry at Creighton and is an active member of her sorority.

Jill Sobczyk: Jill is a junior from Bellevue, Neb. She is majoring in chemistry and plans to attend medical school after graduation. She has been involved with the Cortina Community since her freshman year, and she currently serves as a formation group leader and the recruitment chair. She has participated in a fall break service and justice trip and went to the Dominican Republic for the Institute for Latin American Concern's Water Quality Program in the summer of 2015.

Prem Vichienwanitchkul: Prem is a senior hoping to attend medical school after graduation. He has been involved with many service activities through Alpha Phi Omega working with the Omaha community and has been on two service and justice trips through Creighton's Schlegel Center for Service and Justice. He has also been involved with the Creighton University International Student Association promoting diversity on campus as well as volunteering with International Support Group Foundation when back home during the summers.

Heider College of Business

Grace Cabri: Grace is a junior accounting major and theology minor. She is involved with a variety of organizations on campus, including playing on the women's soccer team, being a member of Beta Alpha Psi, serving on the Dean's Fellows Executive Board, and leading Youth Leadership Omaha. She has also had the opportunity to intern with Union Pacific Railroad. In her free time she enjoys volunteering with different service groups through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, and participating in activities with Creighton's Catholic Student Organization and Creighton's Students for Life.

Kathleen Caffrey: Kathleen is a junior and has been involved in a variety of activities at Creighton including two service and justice trips through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, leading one of the trips. She also serves as the seminar executive for the Freshman Leadership Program, is an active member of Greek life, and volunteers weekly at the Boys and Girls Club.

Henry Elbert: Hank is a junior accounting major and theology minor. He has interned with Javlin Capital in Omaha and will be interning at PricewaterhouseCoopers in Kansas City, Mo., in summer 2016. He is currently serving as the president of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity. Hank's other involvements include various organizations within the Heider College of Business, Campus Ministry, and service at various sites in the Omaha community.

Andrea Engler: Andrea is a senior marketing major in the Heider College of Business. She has participated in a variety of activities at Creighton including the Anna Tyler Waite Leadership Program, Beta Gamma Sigma Honor Society, and Pi Beta Phi. She also attended a fall break service and justice trip and has been a member of Colleges Against Cancer for all four years.

Sara Freepons: Sara is a senior accounting and finance major from Portland, Ore. During her time at Creighton, she has served as the chapter president and vice president of philanthropy of her sorority, led a Girl Scout outreach troop in North Omaha, coordinated the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program for accounting students, and participated in the Dean's Honor Roll for Social Responsibility. Upon graduation, she will work at the public accounting firm KPMG in Omaha.

Christina Laubenthal: Christina is a senior who has thoroughly enjoyed her years and experiences at Creighton. She is heavily involved, participating in a wide variety of extracurricular activities on and off campus. Christina is most proud of her volunteer efforts with Jesuit Academy and her recent publication in the Explicator, a literary journal.

Sara Mather: Sara is a junior and has been involved in many different service activities in the Omaha community and has qualified for the Dean's Honor Roll for Social Responsibility. She is also an executive member of Creighton's Inter-Residence Hall Government.

Breanna Till: Breanna is a junior accounting major. She currently interns at Union Pacific and will intern with PricewaterhouseCoopers in Minneapolis, Minn., in summer 2016. She holds a leadership position in her sorority as well as in a student health organization called PEAC (Peer Education at Creighton). Breanna is also involved in the Anna Tyler Waite Leadership Program and is a leader for the Youth Leadership of Omaha—a leadership program for high school students. She has also journeyed on two service and justice trips through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, coordinating one of the trips.

Matthew Wenz: Matthew is a junior accounting major with a theology minor. He has traveled to Peru on a service immersion study abroad trip the past two summers, been on three service and justice trips through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice as well as two service trips through Phi Delta Theta, and led a weekly service site to the Siena/Francis Homeless Shelter last year. Matthew works in the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, working with weekly service sites as well as working on the Project Homeless Connect team.

College of Nursing

Abby Gauvain: Abby is a senior and will graduate this May. She is highly involved in service on campus, including participating in a Schlegel Center for Service and Justice trip, leading a Girl Scout troop, and providing health care during a five-week immersion experience in the Dominican Republic. She has served as both a beadle and a decurion in the Ratio Studiorum Program, and has held several leadership positions in her sorority. She is also a music minor, and has been a member of the Chamber Choir all four of her years at Creighton.

Abigail Kern: Abigail is a junior and will graduate in May 2017. She has been involved in a number of service activities, including Best Buddies of America and Schlegel Center for Service and Justice trips. She has participated on two service and justice trips and was a coordinator last fall to Montgomery, Ala. Abby is an active member of Greek life as well as a member of the Nursing Leadership Scholars Program. She will be attending the five-week Institute of Latin American Concern Summer Program to provide health care in the Dominican Republic.

Mary Pflaum: Mary is a junior and will graduate in May 2017. She has been involved in several campus activities such as the Nursing Leadership Scholars Program and Nursing Senate. Mary was a committee member of Colleges Against Cancer and is an active member of her sorority. In addition to this, she has held several leadership roles, including treasurer of Nursing Senate and academic chair of Pi Beta Phi. Mary is the current manager for Creighton's Lied Education Center for Performing Arts box office and enjoys rock climbing with Creighton's Climbing Club on the weekends.

Steph Sehon: Steph is a junior and will graduate in May 2017. She has been involved in a variety of extracurricular activities at Creighton including studying and serving abroad in the Dominican Republic with the Encuentro Dominicano program and being a member of the committee for Creighton's first-annual Dance Marathon. She currently holds two executive positions: vice president of administration for Pi Beta Phi sorority and vice president of finance for el Legado de Compasion, an organization that orchestrates a Kids Against Hunger event on Creighton's campus.

Sarah Vehle: Sarah is a junior and will graduate in May 2017. She has been involved in a variety of activities at Creighton including the Ratio Studiorum Program, Alpha Phi Fraternity, Nursing Leadership Scholars Program, the Creighton University Student Nursing Association, and the National Society of Collegiate Scholars. These organizations have provided service opportunities for Sarah at health fairs and screenings in the Omaha community, Remington Heights Retirement Home, and King of Kings Lutheran Church.

College of Professional Studies

Gregory Berry: Gregory is a junior and plans to attend medical school after graduation. He is an emergency medical services major with a great interest in helping people through times of crisis. He serves as an executive in two student organizations and volunteers with an after-school program in the Omaha community.

Jennifer Moffett: Jennifer is a senior and will graduate from the bachelor in integrated leadership program in May 2016. In addition to being a full-time student, Jennifer is a mother to her son, Lee, and is a lead product integration manager for PayPal Global Operations. She also serves on the board of the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention in Nebraska and as the program director of an Episcopal youth program called Journeys.

Graduate School

Courtney Boyd: Courtney is a second-year Magis Catholic Teacher Corps member and will graduate in May 2016. She teaches chemistry and physics, coaches track, and helps with campus ministry at Bishop Ward High School in Kansas City, Mo. She is involved with Catholic young adult ministry through City On A Hill and volunteers in the Kansas City community.

Silina Branson: Silina is pursuing her master's degree in school counseling and preventative mental health and will graduate in May 2016. She serves on several leadership committees to create positive change within the school and community. She models leadership to youth through coordinating community service projects for the local homeless and transitional living shelters within the Council Bluffs area. She is also involved in youth sports and leadership groups.

Melissa Casey-Hansen: Melissa completed her Master of Science in educational leadership in August and a doctoral degree at Creighton's Interdisciplinary Leadership Program in December 2014. She has 25 years of experience in public education, of which 17 were as a school counselor. She currently leads the development of the recently established Center for Advanced Professional Studies (CAPS) within Westside Community Schools, where she has the opportunity to implement her doctoral research. She is an elder and deacon in her faith community and active in causes that promote diversity and support for at-risk youth.

Marco Clark: Marco completed his Doctorate of Education in interdisciplinary leadership in August 2015. He spent 27 years as a Catholic educator, coach, counselor, administrator, school principal, and currently the president and CEO at Bishop McNamara High School in Forestville, Md. He served as a trustee and volunteer at several schools and nonprofit organizations including the Board of Education in the Archdiocese of Washington, the Consortium of Catholic Academies, St. Edmond's Academy, St. Anselm's Academy, St. Ambrose Catholic School, and the Forestville Pregnancy Center.

Andrew Dickel: Andrew is a third-year student pursuing a master's in elementary school counseling and is expected to graduate in May 2016. He taught fifth grade for two years and fourth grade for four years for the Omaha's Skinner Magnet Elementary School. He was chosen by the principal to become a guidance teacher in 2013 and became a guidance counselor in 2015. As a guidance counselor, he serves the students and families of Skinner Elementary through academic and personal/social programs. He will continue to serve Skinner Magnet Elementary School after graduation.

Julia Fickas: Julia is a doctoral candidate in the Interdisciplinary Leadership Program and is expected to graduate in May 2016. She is involved in biblical counseling and mentoring single moms. During the Ferguson, Mo., social unrest, she was able to serve, with her employer, as a volunteer in street cleaning. Additionally, she has worked as part of a ServSat team through her church to serve the community in which her church resides through various service activities.

Laura Gill: Laura completed her graduate degree through the Interdisciplinary Education Doctorate Program in December 2015. She has been a faculty member in Creighton's Department of Communications since 2008 and is actively developing a communication center to assist undergraduate students create presentations, develop confidence, and overcome communication anxiety. She serves as a reviewer for the Speaker & Gavel Editorial Board and enjoys working with Creighton and Omaha community groups to help speakers of all ages develop communication competence.

Andrew Gobel: Andrew is a second-year master's student seeking a degree in creative writing and is expected to graduate in May. Before he matriculated into this program, he lived and taught English in the south of China for six years. While working at Creighton as an ESL instructor, Andrew leads trips to the Open Door Mission and Wilson Focus School. This last semester he went on a fall break service and justice trip to the Siena/Francis Homeless Shelter. He also participates in weekly meetings and regular trainings for men's emotional intelligence and integrity training group called the Man Kind Project.

Joseph Hollowell: Joseph is an education doctoral candidate and is expected to graduate in May. He is the president of one of the largest Catholic high schools in the Midwest and developed a passion for outdoor education; he has taught a wilderness education and leadership class every summer for the past 32 years. In this program, over 2,600 young people have traveled, camped, backpacked, rafted, rock-climbed, and hiked through Alaska, the Grand Canyon, Yosemite, and other natural wonders as they reflect the goodness of God's creation and each person's role in creation.

Scott Malone: Scott graduated from Creighton with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in 1993 and will complete his master's in educational leadership this May. Scott has been teaching and coaching with the Omaha Public School's District for the past 18 years and plans to work as an administrator in the future. He has been involved in a variety of service activities at Our Lady of Lourdes Parish. Scott and his wife, Mary, also provide volunteer services at the Mother Teresa House in Cusco, Peru, while studying Spanish. Scott is a member of Restore Omaha, a foundation working to keep Omaha's history alive.

James Parenti: James is an education doctoral candidate and expected to graduate in summer 2016. He has been actively engaged in the promotion of Jesuit values at his home institution where he served as a member of the Georgetown Office of Mission and Ministry Board of Advisors. Jim also helped coordinate service-related events for Georgetown students at area homeless shelters, senior centers, and public schools.

Linda Pfenning: Linda received her master's degree in liberal studies in December. She is a communications teacher at Creighton Preparatory High School where she works every day to instill Ignatian values in her students. She and her husband are attending a four-year training course in the Diaconate program in the Des Moines Diocese and are very active in their parish, St. Patrick's in Council Bluffs.

Michael Rios: Michael is in his third and final year of graduate school pursuing a Master of Arts in ministry. After receiving his bachelor's from Creighton in 2012, he spent a year volunteering in Ecuador at a Jesuit nonprofit and now works in the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice as a graduate assistant. There he has participated in and helped lead the service and justice trips program and the Ignatian Family Teach-in for Justice in Washington, D.C. Michael also volunteers with the Immigrant Detainee Accompaniment Program visiting detainees weekly at the Douglas County Corrections jail downtown.

Elizabeth Samson: Elizabeth is a graduate student seeking a Master of Arts in ministry with an expected graduation of summer 2016. After graduating from Creighton in 2013 with an undergraduate degree in justice and society, she put the Jesuit values to work through a year of service in Colorado. Now back at Creighton, she works as a graduate assistant in Campus Ministry, where she facilitates spaces for students to explore their faith in a variety of reflective and engaging ways while continuing her formation in the Catholic, Jesuit tradition.

Boan Sianipar: Boan was a graduate student in the Werner Institute and Heider College of Business. He graduated in December 2015 and has consistently been on the Dean's Platinum Honor Roll for Social Responsibility for his involvement and community service at local churches in Omaha. He was the 2015 Graduate Student Government treasurer in which he oversaw funding and events for graduate students.

Patrick Slattery: Patrick is currently completing his dissertation in leadership within the interdisciplinary education doctoral program. Patrick has a particular affinity for the Jesuit charisms of magis and cura personalis as he serves more than 19,000 students in the Archdiocese of Omaha as the superintendent of schools. His Jesuit education, both in undergraduate and doctorate studies, has proved invaluable to ensuring that the schools of the archdiocese educate the whole person.

Melanie Stara: Melanie is a second-year graduate student pursuing her master's degree in educational leadership. She graduated from Creighton with a bachelor's degree in elementary education in May 2013. She is now a member of the Magis Catholic Teacher Corps and teaches third grade in Hastings, Neb.

Pamela Yenke: Pam will graduate with a Master of Science in leadership in May 2016. She has volunteered at Project Homeless Connect, St. John's Parish and several local homeless shelters. She tries to be a catalyst for intercultural understanding. Pam has traveled to Guatemala and would like her degree to ultimately manifest itself in work in that region.

Robert Zinkan: Rob is a doctoral candidate seeking a degree in interdisciplinary leadership. He serves as associate vice president for marketing in a system-wide role at Indiana University. Rob has been active on numerous boards in higher education, such as the Indiana chapter of CASE—the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education—and in his communities, such as the Seton Catholic prekindergarten through 12 school board.

School of Dentistry

Logan Hill: Logan is a third-year student. He has provided oral health screenings for Creighton student-athletes, placed sealants and fluoride for children in Omaha elementary schools, and performed dental procedures for low-income individuals at One World Clinics held at Creighton University. He also acts as a mentor to local high school students for the Creighton Dental Explorers Scout program.

Matthew Hill: Matt is a senior and will enter private practice in May 2016. He has been involved in a variety of activities at Creighton including leading a night dental clinic for underprivileged Omaha residents, providing care to children through Give Kids a Smile and school fluoride and sealant programs, and participating as a student organizer for Project Homeless Connect. He is also an active volunteer in the Omaha community.

Breanna Koch: Breanna is a senior. After graduating in May she plans to join a private practice in rural Kansas. She has been involved in several activities throughout her years at Creighton University, including two service trips to the Dominican Republic through the Institute for Latin American Concern program.

John Kum: John is a fourth-year student expecting to graduate with Doctorate of Dental Surgery in May 2016. John participated in mission trips to the Dominican Republic as an “Ayudante” in 2010 and student-dentist in 2015. He has also volunteered as a student-dentist at Iowa Mission of Mercy in 2015, St. Francis Mission on Rosebud Indian Reservation spring and fall 2015, and Creighton One World Dental Clinic. As President of Student National Dental Association, John has organized and volunteered at health fairs providing oral cancer screenings and hygiene instructions and supplies for the Omaha Community.

Brenden Mar: Brenden is a senior dental student. He has been involved in various volunteer activities while at Creighton including the One World Dental Clinic held at the Creighton University School of Dentistry.

Emily Parsons: Emily is a third-year dental student from Manhattan, Kan. She regularly serves at the One World Dental Clinic and was a student dentist volunteer for the Iowa Mission of Mercy this past fall. Emily is the granddaughter and niece of Alpha Sigma Nu alumni, both of whom were also Creighton School of Dentistry graduates.

Devon Rasmussen: Devon is a junior who will graduate in spring 2017. He is actively involved in helping several of Omaha's youth prepare for their future lives by instilling in their hearts faith in God and the courage to succeed. Devon would like to thank Creighton University as well as the faculty at the School of Dentistry for this honor. He hopes that his life may continue to exemplify Jesuit values through continued scholarship, service, and loyalty to God and mankind.

Donald Shrack: Donald will be graduating in spring 2016. While at Creighton, he was directed to the One World volunteer dental clinic and has traveled to the Dominican Republic through the Institute for Latin American Concern to take part in a six-week service trip. After completing his degree, he plans on continued utilization of his acquired dental skills for the betterment of those in need.

School of Law

Jamie Bell: Jamie is in her third year of law school. During her time at Creighton she has served as the treasurer and president of Law Ambassadors, which is a student organization which helps recruit new students. She is also a member of Phi Alpha Delta, a legal fraternity. Jamie voluntarily assisted with lighting the entire campus in blue lights for homecoming 2015. While living in Las Vegas prior to law school, Jamie volunteered at Three Square, the local food bank.

Daniel Cummings: Daniel is a third-year student. He is currently serving as the editor-in-chief of the Creighton International and Comparative Law Journal and works as a law clerk at the Omaha law firm Croker, Huck, Kasher, DeWitt, Anderson & Gonderinger, L.L.C. Daniel has been involved with a variety of student organizations at the law school, including serving as president of the St. Thomas More Society for two years. After graduation he will serve as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable John F. Wright of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Nicholas Miller: Nicholas is a third-year student. He is currently serving as the Student Bar Association president for the School of Law and is a staff member for the Creighton Law Review. As part of the Student Bar Association, he recently donated a day of service to the MICAH House in Council Bluffs. Additionally, the organization plans to host a philanthropic event this spring to benefit a local Omaha charity.

Elizabeth Norton: Elizabeth is a third-year student who will be graduating this May with her Juris Doctor and Master of Science in government and organizational leadership. During her time at Creighton, Elizabeth has led several student groups in a variety of activities, including an annual fundraiser for the Wounded Warrior Project and helping refugee families resettle in the Omaha area. She has also been active in volunteering in the Omaha community. Elizabeth spent last semester in Washington, D.C., interning at the World Bank.

School of Medicine

Megan Barlow: Megan is a third-year student and will graduate in May 2017. She has spent her time at Creighton in various ways, including participating in a student-run service trip to Romania and spending hours providing health care at a local homeless shelter with the Magis Clinic. She also serves as vice president of the third-year class in her medical school government.

Julia Coughlin: Julia is a fourth-year student and will graduate this May. She will start her residency training in general surgery. While at Creighton, she was the co-president of Partners Against Cancer, volunteered her time seeing patients at the Magis Clinic, and mentored high school and undergraduate students interested in medicine. She has worked in Jamaica and Ghana, providing medical aid for several communities. Throughout her career, she hopes to continue to be involved in global health.

Daniel Dyer: Daniel is a third-year student and will graduate in May 2017. He is a current director of the Magis Clinic, a Creighton student-run free clinic. Additionally, he has been involved in a number of Creighton activities including Partners Against Cancer, Project CURA, the Global Health Conference Midwest, and local service at the Sienna/Francis Homeless Shelter through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice.

Jason Eckmann: Jason is a fourth-year student and will graduate this May. During his time at Creighton, he served as a tutor, peer mentor, and a member of the medical school community service board. He also spent time volunteering at the Magis Clinic and participated in a medical service trip to Northeast India. In July, he will begin a residency in internal medicine, and ultimately plans to pursue a career in gastroenterology.

Timothy Evans: Tim is a fourth-year student planning on pursuing a combined residency-training program in internal medicine-pediatrics after graduation in May 2016. He has been involved with community service throughout his four years at Creighton and has organized campus cleanups, food drives, toy drives, a St. Baldrick's event, and volunteer opportunities with the Open Door Mission for the medical school classes. He was also involved with a service trip to India through Project CURA, the Magis Clinic, Project Homeless Connect, and Keep Omaha Beautiful, Inc.

Spencer Gantz: Spencer is a third-year student who will graduate in May 2017. His primary extra-curricular involvement at Creighton has been serving as an executive board member and manager of Creighton's Magis Clinic, a free clinic that provides quality health care to Omaha's homeless and underserved populations. He also recently became a father and enjoys spending time with his wife, Katie, and son, Ethan.

Sean Kenmore: Sean is a fourth-year student and is pursuing a residency in internal medicine after graduation this May. During his medical school career, Sean has consistently honored several courses and was recently elected into the Alpha Omega Alpha medical honors society. He has also been involved with various volunteer organizations at Creighton including the Magis Clinic, Vital Signs Mentoring, Fit for Life, Open Door Mission, and the American Red Cross.

Sydney Marsh: Sydney is a third-year student who will graduate in May 2017. She has been involved with a variety of organizations while at Creighton including Advocates, Partners Against Cancer, the American Medical Association chapter and the medical admissions committee. She has also led a service trip to the Pine Ridge Native American Reservation with her peers.

Mallory Moore: Mallory is a third-year student and will graduate in May 2017. Mallory is a volunteer at the Magis Clinic for the underserved population of the Omaha community, a Do Justice volunteer at Douglas County Youth Center, a Creighton University Advocates volunteer, and a YES mentor for at-risk youth. She is also a curriculum chair for Fit For Life, a program that implements healthy habits curriculum in Omaha Catholic schools.

Benjamin Packard: Benjamin is a third-year student on the Phoenix track and will graduate in May 2017. He was an active volunteer at both the Magis Clinic and the Porto Clinic while in Omaha. He also volunteered at Habitat for Humanity every semester and continues to do so in Phoenix. While in Phoenix, Benjamin has volunteered in the town of Sonoyta, Mexico, to provide medical services.

Anne Pralle: Anne is a fourth-year student and will begin a residency in pediatrics in Spring 2016. She has been involved in a variety of activities at Creighton, including Magis Clinic and a medical service trip to India. She has also been involved in the community as a children's basketball coach and a food service volunteer.

Erika Price: Erika is a fourth-year student. Throughout her time in medical school, she has been involved in various service activities including a medical mission trip to India with Project CURA, mentoring through the American Medical Women's Association, and community service efforts with an Ob-Gyn interest group. In February of 2015 she was accepted to Alpha Omega Alpha, the medical honor society, and she plans to pursue a residency in obstetrics and gynecology starting in summer 2016.

Brody Slostad: Brody is a fourth-year student who is currently applying for an internal medicine residency. Brody's service involvements include co-president of the Creighton chapter of Alpha Omega Alpha, Partners Against Cancer patient advocacy program, and Project CURA Global Healthcare trip to Ghana. Brody has authored two abstracts published in the Journal of Clinical Oncology, presented a poster at the 2015 American Society of Clinical Oncology National Meeting, and authored a published case report in the International Journal of Anatomic Variations.

Jessica Tomsula: Jessica is a fourth-year student who will be starting a residency in pathology in July 2016. She has been involved in a variety of service activities at Creighton including leading a service trip to the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. Also, she is co-president of Fit for Life, an organization that works with Omaha fourth and fifth graders to try to teach them healthy habits and lifestyles. In addition, she has served on her class's community service committee, worked in the Magis Clinic, and assisted in pathology research.

Monica Waldstein: Monica is a fourth-year student who will be graduating this May. During her time at Creighton, Monica has been involved in the Magis Clinic, a free clinic for the homeless in Omaha. She has volunteered for the Dominican Pediatric ENT Mission, St. Vincent de Paul Meals for the Homeless, and Project Homeless Connect. Monica also tutored medical students and is developing a program to help third-year medical students succeed in the pediatric clerkship.

David Waters: David is a fourth-year student who will be pursuing a residency in anatomic and clinical pathology following graduation. During his eight years at Creighton, he has been a member of the School of Medicine Admission Committee, a peer mentor and tutor, and a volunteer for the school of medicine and the greater Omaha community. He was also involved in many organizations as an undergraduate student including Inter-Residence Hall Government, Greek life, various honor societies, and the Freshman Leadership Program.

School of Pharmacy and Health Professions

Sarah Adie: Sarah is a fourth-year student in the School of Pharmacy and Health Professions and will graduate with a Doctorate of Pharmacy in 2016. She holds a Bachelor of Arts in elementary education from Saint Mary's University. Sarah is a member of the Rho Chi Honor Society serving on both the fundraising committee and as co-chair on the Fred LeRoy Committee, in which she is responsible for creating health awareness brochures for patients within the Fred LeRoy Health and Wellness Center. Sara has also served as a Welcome Week Ambassador and tutor for first-year pharmacy students.

Collin Atkinson: Collin is a fourth-year physical therapy student who will graduate in May 2016. He has served as the vice president for the Creighton University American Physical Therapy Association and has been an active member of the Physical Therapy Leadership Guild (PTLG). Collin was part of a class that helped organize Project Homeless Connect at Creighton and China Honors Interprofessional Program, which traveled to China to provide rehabilitation care. For the last part of his physical therapy curriculum, Collin will be volunteering in the Dominican Republic through the Institute for Latin American Concern (ILAC) program.

McKenzie Wiese Behrendt: McKenzie recently graduated with a Doctorate of Occupational Therapy in December 2015. She has helped her fellow occupational therapy peers advocate, exemplify characteristics, establish unique community connections, and increase their passion for their profession by being a co-founder of the organization, Creative Occupations. She held the treasurer position for two years and participated in the Institute for Latin American Concern program in the Dominican Republic. She humbly thanks God and all of the influential individuals in her life for continually providing her with avenues of personal and professional growth.

Ann Cabri: Annie is a third-year pharmacy student and will graduate with a Doctorate of Pharmacy and a Bachelor of Science in health sciences in May 2017. She exemplifies magis through her involvement in organizations on campus and her commitment to patient care as a pharmacist intern. Serving as president of the Creighton Student Society of Health System Pharmacy, she coordinates several events to help pharmacy students prepare for post-graduate residency positions. Annie collaborates with medical students to develop interprofessional clinical reasoning competitions to enhance classroom learning and boost rapport between health care providers.

Whitley Case: Whitley is a fourth-year physical therapy student graduating in May 2016. She has been involved in a variety of activities within the Doctor of Physical Therapy program including tutoring and service opportunities throughout Omaha. She has served on the Sherman Steichen Memorial Run committee and will be traveling with the Institute for Latin American Concern program to provide physical therapy services in the Dominican Republic in March 2016. In her free time, Whitley enjoys spending time volunteering at the Heartland Equine Therapeutic Riding Academy.

Kaitlin Crowley: Kaitlin is a fourth-year pharmacy student and will graduate in May 2016. She has been actively involved in several professional organizations at Creighton, including Phi Delta Chi Pharmacy Fraternity, American Pharmacists Association, Student Society for Health Systems Pharmacist, Rho Chi Honor Society, and Phi Lambda Sigma Leadership Society. Kaitlin is currently applying to pharmacy residency programs with the goal of becoming a clinical pharmacist.

Michelle Eastwood: Michelle is a third-year physical therapy student. She has been involved in a variety of clubs while at Creighton, including the Physical Therapy Leadership Guild, which provides service to the school and the surrounding community. She has also provided service to communities in Missouri, rural Nebraska, and Oregon by coordinating and volunteering in balance clinics, exercise classes for individuals with Parkinson's disease, and hippotherapy while on clinical rotations.

Sarah Esparza: After graduating from Santa Clara University in 2010, Sarah did a year of service through the Jesuit Volunteer Corps and later as a social worker. Since starting school at Creighton, Sarah has continued to be involved with service through Physical Therapy Leadership Guild. She also had the opportunity to travel to China as part of the Cultural Immersion and Experiential Learning. She is finishing up her last clinical rotation in the Bureau of Prisons, Fort Worth, Texas, where she is working with female inmates and researching the benefits of physical therapy within her setting.

Rebecca Halbur: Rebecca is in her fourth year of pharmacy school and will graduate with her Doctorate of Pharmacy in May 2016. She has enjoyed mentoring through Kids Can! Community Center and volunteering for pharmacy-related service activities including Porto Urgent Care Clinic and Kountze Healing Gift Clinic. Rebecca is an active member of the American Society of Health System Pharmacy, Rho Chi Pharmaceutical Academic Honor Society, Kappa Psi Pharmaceutical Fraternity, and the American Pharmacists Association.

Laura Hampson: Laura is a fourth-year Doctorate of Physical Therapy candidate and will graduate in May 2016. During her second-year of school, Laura volunteered her time to provide respite care to underserved individuals in the Omaha area. She helped organize the 2014 Parkinson's Awareness walk with the Nebraska Parkinson's Disease Association and recruited her classmates to volunteer at the event for the class service project. Additionally, Laura volunteered at an adaptive sports camp in Chicago for disabled veterans.

Jeannie Kinoshita: Jeannie is a third-year pharmacy student. She is involved in a variety of organizations at Creighton and is currently the president of the American Pharmacists Association—Academy of Student Pharmacists, as well as the worthy master at arms for Phi Delta Chi Professional Pharmacy Fraternity. She is also a member of the Rho Chi Pharmaceutical Academic Honor Society, Phi Lambda Sigma Pharmacy Leadership Society, and serves on the Pharmacy Curriculum Committee.

Emily Mescher: Emily is in her third year of the physical therapy program at Creighton University. She is involved in a variety of clubs and organizations, including the American Physical Therapy Association and the Physical Therapy Leadership Guild. Under Emily's leadership as president, the Jays for Pediatrics club expanded its babysitting and respite care program to serve additional families, strengthened its relationship with J.P. Lord Elementary School, and provided education about pediatric health care to its members by bringing in guest experts. This spring Emily will be traveling to the Dominican Republic through the Institute for Latin American Concern program.

Sara Munzesheimer: Sara is a third-year occupational therapy student. She has been involved in a variety of on-campus organizations including Pre-Occupational Therapy club, Creighton University Occupational Therapy Association, and Pi Theta Occupational Therapy Honors Society. This January she went on a service trip to the Dominican Republic with Creighton to provide occupational therapy services to children and adults in need. Sara is always willing to help out and considers that to be one of her strengths.

Elizabeth Talcott: Beth is in her last semester of the physical therapy program, on track to receive her doctorate in May 2016. She has been involved in many activities throughout her time at Creighton, including holding the office of vice president for the Physical Therapy Leadership Guild. She was also heavily involved in creating a continuing education course for practicing physical therapists, which raised funds for physical therapy research through the Miami-Marquette Foundation. Beth will travel to the Dominican Republic for a four-week clinical rotation in April to continue her education and serve the underprivileged at a more global level.

Linnea Tokushige: Linnea is a third-year pharmacy student who will graduate in May 2017 with a Doctorate of Pharmacy and Bachelor of Science in Health Sciences. She has been involved in various activities including a sustainability service trip through the Schlegel Center for Service and Justice, a pharmacy immersion trip on the Navajo Reservation, and flu clinics for Creighton and surrounding Omaha communities. She currently co-leads an interprofessional bible study and is an active member of Phi Delta Chi Pharmacy Fraternity, Phi Lambda Sigma Pharmacy Leadership Society, and Rho Chi Pharmaceutical Honor Society.

Brandon Van Amber: Brandon is a fourth-year pharmacy student and will graduate in May 2016. After graduation he plans to pursue a clinical pharmacy residency. Throughout pharmacy school at Creighton, Brandon has completed pharmacy research and taken on several leadership roles in his work with Operation Diabetes and Rho Chi Pharmacy Honor Society. He has also been an active member and volunteered his time with a number of pharmacy organizations.

Honorary Inductees

Phillip R. Amidon, S.J., D.Phil.

Presented by James Clifton, S.J.

Father Phil Amidon entered the Society of Jesus in 1961, leaving the Eastern Iowa towns of Solon and Iowa City behind as he ventured to the Jesuit Novitiate located in St. Bonifacius, Minnesota.

Fr. Amidon then followed the usual course of Jesuit formation, with studies in philosophy at St. Louis University, a period of teaching English in Seoul, Korea, at Sogang University, followed by his return to SLU for theology studies. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1974.

Beginning in 1975, Fr. Amidon studied Church History at Oxford University and was awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy Oxoniensis in 1979.

After graduate studies in theology he was assigned to Sogang University in Seoul, Korea, for two years, and since then has spent most of his time at Creighton University where he serves as an assistant pastor, residence hall chaplain and part-time theology teacher.

He has published translations of Church Fathers from the Patristic era, which the late Father William Harmless of the Society of Jesus described as some of the finest translations available.

Fr. Amidon's Jesuit brothers treasure his quiet and incisive wit and his unfailingly kind attention to all. His hobbies include reading and translation.

It is with great pride that Father Phil Amidon is inducted as an honorary member into the Alpha Sigma Nu Honor Society.

Cindy L. Costanzo, Ph.D., R.N., CNL

Presented by Linda Lazure, Ph.D., R.N.

Dr. Cindy Costanzo, College of Nursing associate professor, serves as senior associate dean, MSN program chair, and curriculum coordinator for both the Clinical Systems Administration track—MSN and Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP)—and Clinical Nurse Leader (MSN) tracks.

She now facilitates the Leadership Scholars program for undergraduate nursing students. Her career trajectory amplifies the natural acumen for administrative and leadership positions, as evidenced by managerial positions in varied clinical, academic and administrative venues. Dr. Costanzo generously accepted the interim dean position in 2015. She is highly regarded as a mentor and wise counselor to students, faculty and professional colleagues.

She is active in numerous professional organizations, past-president of Nebraska Organization for Nurse Leaders; member of ANA, NNA, Sigma Theta Tau International, and Midwest Nursing Research Society. She recently agreed to serve on the Eastern Nebraska leadership team for the Nebraska Action Coalition.

Her CV listing of service does not tell the story of this spiritually-centered woman who makes time for quiet volunteer service without a desire for notoriety. She influences others with her positivity, urging them to step outside of their comfort zones and reach for the “more” (magis). Her exemplary scholarship, loyalty and dedication to Jesuit values make Dr. Cindy Costanzo an excellent honorary member of Alpha Sigma Nu.

Patricia A. Perry

Presented by Richard Rossi, Ph.D.

For the last 20 years, when people at Creighton think of events coordination, they think of Patty Perry. What began with her planning a dozen or so annual events has grown over the years to the creation of an event team handling more than 100 events each year, including commencement ceremonies and presidential inaugurations.

Patty loves learning. She graduated magna cum laude in communications from the University of Nebraska at Omaha. She traveled with her Air Force husband, Russ, and their two children, ultimately moving eight times in 16 years. While in Europe she mastered the Portuguese language and daughter, Alice, mastered German. When the Perrys returned to Omaha, Patty found a second home at Creighton.

Patty serves as a sacristan, lector and lay Eucharistic minister at her St. Columbkille parish in Papillion. She also integrates Ignatian spirituality in her work and personal life. Patty led an all-city Ignatian prayer group called “Lord, Teach Me To Pray.”

In 2013 she was honored with the Saint Ignatius Award at Creighton. The award testimonial accurately described her as a woman of faith and family possessing calmness, competency and concern. One colleague wrote, “She is a gentle soul, steadfast and strong in her institutional knowledge and commitment to Creighton and its mission.”

For these reasons, and for her compassion, integrity, grace, and her teaching style of leadership, we are delighted to welcome Patty Perry as an honorary member of Alpha Sigma Nu.

Mary E. Tracy, Ph.D., R.N.

Presented by Joan Lappe, Ph.D., R.N., FAAN

Dr. Mary Tracy, professor of nursing, inspires students and faculty to become women and men for others. She has worked tirelessly to assure that gerontological content is fully addressed and consistently updated in the College of Nursing.

Dr. Tracy earned her bachelor's degree in nursing from Creighton, and a master's degree in nursing and a doctorate in gerontology from the University of Nebraska. Most of her career has been dedicated to the education of student nurses. She is highly regarded by her students and develops lifelong relationships with many of them.

Dr. Tracy actively models cura personalis in her untiring attention to the needs of elderly persons in our society. For many years she has focused on the residents of the Notre Dame Convent infirmary and the 7 Oaks Retirement Center.

Dr. Tracy has conducted research with those residents to determine how the elderly can stay healthy longer. She also has conducted numerous community education programs related to care of the elderly, including care for those with Alzheimer's disease and their families.

At Creighton Dr. Tracy is a mentor for the Status of Women Committee, serves as a member of the Bereavement Committee, and participated in the first Creighton Colleagues Program for understanding Ignatian spirituality. She also performs site accreditation visits as part of the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education.

In light of her distinguished scholarship, loyalty to the ideals of Jesuit education, and service to others we welcome Dr. Mary Tracy to Alpha Sigma Nu.

HONORARY INDUCTEES

Phillip R. Amidon, S.J., D.Phil.

Cindy L. Costanzo, Ph.D., R.N., CNL

Patricia A. Perry

Mary E. Tracy, Ph.D., R.N.

ASN STUDENT CHAPTER OFFICERS 2015-2016

Joseph X. Tanaka

HEIDER COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

President

Selina A. Marshall

HEIDER COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Vice President

Daniel D. Poston

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Vice President

Samantha O. Stanley

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Vice President

Jennifer A. Vestle

COLLEGE OF NURSING

Vice President

Thomas J. Purcell III, Ph.D., CPA, BSBA'72, JD'77

Student Chapter Moderator

Laurel McClure

Administrative Assistant

ASN ALUMNI BOARD OFFICERS 2015–2016

Thomas M. Kiefer, BA'73, DDS'77

President

W. Wayne Young, Ph.D., BA'93

Treasurer

Gary R. Batenhorst, J.D., BSBA'73

Secretary

James F. Clifton, S.J.

Moderator

CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Daniel S. Hendrickson, S.J., Ph.D.

President, Creighton University

THANK YOU

Our sincere thanks and gratitude to the faculty, staff, administration and students of the Creighton community for dedicating their time and talents to making this day possible.

We are grateful to the Creighton University Alpha Sigma Nu Omaha Alumni Club for their support and sponsorship of the reception and continuing support of our activities throughout the year.

Creighton University, located in Omaha, Neb., offers a top-ranked education in the Jesuit tradition for people who want to contribute something meaningful to the world. It is where students, faculty and staff thrive in a supportive community committed to Jesuit, Catholic values and traditions. And, it is where students learn to become leaders through service to others.

Creighton's nine schools and colleges deliver powerful education that connects arts and sciences, law and business with health science programs in dentistry, medicine, nursing, pharmacy, occupational and physical therapy, public health and emergency medical services.

Creighton
UNIVERSITY