Student Immunization Requirements

The Creighton University Student Handbook is the official guide for all enrolled students at Creighton University. Every student is responsible for knowledge of the following regulations and information contained in the Handbook pertaining to immunization requirements: <https://www.creighton.edu/students/studenthandbook/>.

- All Creighton University students are required to comply with the University's immunization requirements. The requirements follow CDC guidelines and are reviewed annually. Immunization requirements apply to all students coming to campus. International students, health science students and residential students (living in campus housing) have specific requirements.
- Immunization Exemptions:
Medical and religious exemption forms are available at <https://www.creighton.edu/student-experience/wellness/health-and-counseling/student-health-education-and-compliance/immunization-requirements>
- Students need to upload their exemption forms into Complio for approval or denial.
